Tecumseh Auction Articles Displayed In Circleville

Potential bidders and interested auction buffs can view the articles donated by Pickaway counties to the Second Annual Tecumseh Ceremonial Feast.

The interesting and valuable collection are displayed in the show room of Yates Motor Company at 1220 S. Court St. prior to transfer to Chillicothe on Friday in preparation for the fund raising event, which will be held at the Elks Hall on Saturday evening, 7 p.m.

One of the highlights of the auction has been denied access to the show room and will remain in seclusion until after Saturday's festivities. However, this fact is not expected to dampen enthusiastic bidding on the 1000 pound Black Angus steer, donated by Mr. and Mrs. John Dunlap Jr. The huge "banquet on the hoof" will be collected by the lucky high bidder at his convenience from the Dunlap farm in Williamsport.

Mrs. Don Miller, Sr. and Mrs. Henry Swope, who are in charge of local acquisitions, wish to thank all of the contributors, who are making Tecumseh 1975 a reality by their generosity.

Recent donations include two ironstone platters and an ironstone tureen from Mrs. Charles May, a marked white ironstone tureen and ladle from Miss Dhele and Mr. Harford Renick and a hand painted square Limoges vegetable dish from Mrs. Frank Bennett.

The Logan Elm Board of Education, Roger Hobbie, president, presented an original school desk from a township school. Dr. and Mrs. Robert Liggett donated a wooden salt box and the Florizer Co. gave 10 bags of fertilizer.

Ohio's new senator, John Glenn, has sent a letter opener with the Senate insignia and Mr. and Mrs. Carl S. Smith have given a page from an antique record book from the Renick and Denny store in Ross County dated 1806, showing the names and purchases of many early area families.

Friends who have made cash donations are Mrs. Ray Davis, Dr. Mary Holman, Mrs. Robert Musser and Margaret I. Moots.

Assembly Gets Bills

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. James A. Rhodes' four June 3 ballot proposals were due for floor introduction today with majority Democrats encouraged by "a more positive climate" in Ohio's legislative halls.

Senate Majority Leader Oliver Ocasek, D-27 Akron, referred Tuesday night to the Republican governor's decision to allow a Democrat-sponsored $91.3 million school appropriations bill become law without his signature.

Ocasek stressed that Democrats, about to consider Rhodes' $4.1 billion bond issues and a pair of other ballot proposals, "didn't make any deals of any kind . . . but we're very pleased. We think we have a more positive climate now."

Rhodes sent his four proposed constitutional amendments late Tuesday to legislative leaders who promptly divided them into pairs for consideration in both houses simultaneously.

The House will begin hearings promptly on the governor's proposal for a $2.5 billion bond issue to help cities with capital improvements and establish river and lake ports, along with an amendment clarifying the state's authority to issue revenue bonds for housing and nursing homes.

Ocasek said the Senate will begin deliberations on a $1.6 billion transportation bond issue and a plan to allow the legislature to vote tax abatements for industries expanding or locating facilities in Ohio.

Rhodes sent letters to all members of the legislature in which he said his four-part program will enable Ohio "to combat unemployment, crime, and welfare . . . Ohioans face unemployment of epidemic proportions if we do not act now . . ."

Democrats remained noncommittal about the proposals that include a pair of tax increases for voter consideration—a boost of nine-tenths of one cent in the seven-cents-a-gallon gasoline tax and a seven-tenth of a penny hike in the four per cent sales tax.

Ocasek said he and House Speaker Vernal G. Riffe Jr., D-89 New Boston, will hold a joint news conference Thursday after they have had time to consider the detailed language of Rhodes' proposals.

The Senate leader said he has reservations about part of the package, including the increase in the sales tax, "but we're going to have an open caucus. As I told the governor, anything that gets a majority of votes in the Senate will fly."

Rhodes' proposals actually need three-fifths majorities in each chamber to get on the June ballot. The lawmakers will be working against a March 5 statutory deadline.

In other developments Tuesday as the lawmakers returned from a winter recess of almost two weeks:

—The Senate completed passage of a House bill that qualifies Xenia and other school districts hit by last year's tornadoes to qualify for state disaster relief. The vote was 87-0 on the measure which now goes to the governor.

—The Senate Finance Committee called for transportation department testimony tonight on the latter's problems in obtaining $50 million or more in federal highway matching funds. The panel also will begin hearing testimony on Rhodes' transportation bond issues, said Chairman Harry Meshele, D-33 Youngstown.

—Two bills were readied for floor votes today in the Senate. One establishes the third Monday in January as a state holiday to honor the late Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. The other corrects a legislative oversight last year that banned kiddies' tricycles from sidewalks.

—Nineteen new bills and resolutions were introduced in the two chambers. They included a statewide ballot proposal by Sen. Tony P. Hall, D-6 Dayton, that would require Ohio's governor and lieutenant governor to run as a team.

—The Senate Judiciary Committee began hearings on a bill that would require state and local government agencies to take all their formal actions in meetings open to the public.

William Oertel, executive director of the Ohio Newspaper Association, reported that organization's board had voted unanimously to support the legislation by Sen. Robert D. Freeman, D-29 Canton.

No Compromise Seen In Energy Showdown

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress and President Ford are at the brink of confrontation over national energy policy, and each side is refusing to back down first.

As the Senate prepared to vote this evening on delaying the first step of Ford's energy program, the President continued a steady pace of meetings with members of Congress to sell his proposals.

This morning's White House breakfast with 11 southern Democratic senators was the fourth such meeting in three days. After a Ford dinner Tuesday night for 13 liberal Republican senators, Sen. J. Glenn Beall, R-Md., said: "I think everyone assumes he's going to lose" the Senate vote on the House-passed bill to delay oil tariff increases.

To win time to write their own energy program, Democrats say they must postpone Ford's $3-per-barrel tariff on foreign oil for 90 days.

With the tariff delay a foregone conclusion, both sides were cautious about predicting how Ford's promised veto of the measure will fare.

A two-thirds majority will be required in both houses to override the veto, and that margin is conceded in the House.

In the Senate, Republican Leader Hugh Scott called it a toss-up, Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said it would be close, and Sen. John G. Tower, R-Tex., predicted Ford's veto will be sustained because of strong GOP support.

If all 99 senators are present, an override would require 66 votes. Democrats have 61 seats, the Republicans 38, and one New Hampshire seat is vacant because of an election dispute.

U.S.-Cuban Relations Thawing?

WASHINGTON (AP) — Although the hemispheric embargo of Cuba remains intact, some American officials see a slow but accelerating thaw in United States relations with the island nation.

The State Department's public position is that the relationship has not changed but officials tell a different story in private.

The most recent sign of a thaw was last week's decision by the State Department to relax restrictions on travel for Cuba's diplomats at the United Nations. The distance Cuban delegates are permitted to travel outside New York City was increased from 25 to 250 miles.

Also, there were these other developments over the past few months:

—The State Department, moving away from its previous opposition to lifting the hemispheric embargo, has adopted a neutral stand.

—Senate Foreign Relations Committee Chairman John J. Sparkman, D-Ala., a consistent supporter of presidential policies in foreign affairs, has urged restoring normal relations with Cuba.

—The U.S. Congress has quietly lifted prohibitions on aid to countries trading with Cuba.

—Cuba has released four American prisoners as a gesture of friendship to Sens. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., and Claiborne Pell, D-R.I., who visited the island last September.

—Aides to Sens. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., and Lloyd M. Bentsen, D-Tex., have visited Cuba at Cuba's invitation.

Officials discount the significance of two other developments last week that have been perceived in some quarters as friendly gestures.

Three Americans convicted on drug charges were released from jail in Cuba, but officials said the move was expected because the prison terms of the three had expired.

The second development involved a Treasury Department decision to permit a Canadian subsidiary of Litton Industries to trade with Cuba despite federal statutes that ban such trade. Officials say the decision was intended not as a gesture to Cuba, but to Canada, which had insisted that the proposed transaction be allowed to take place.

Weather

Cloudy early today becoming sunny in the afternoon, high, mid 40s. Cloudy and cold tonight, low, mid 20s. Sunny Thursday, high, low 40s. Probability of precipitation, 20 per cent today and zero per cent tonight and tomorrow. Temperatures Tuesday were: high, 55; low, 33.

As debate on the tariff delay opened Tuesday, Sen. Carl T. Curtis, R-Neb., called the delaying measure "a cavalier and irresponsible way to deal with a legitimate crisis of national security which is daily growing worse, not better."

Ford is imposing the tax as a first step toward reducing U.S. consumption of foreign oil by two million barrels a day, or about 28 per cent, over the next three years. In seeking that goal, the President concluded that continued heavy reliance on imports threatens the national security.

But Sen. Abraham A. Ribicoff, D-Conn., who is managing the bill, said Ford's plan "could well mean even higher inflation, and even higher unemployment." He said the tariff would cost the average American family of four $207 a year.

House and Senate Democrats are working separately to write their own substitutes for Ford's energy program, but there is increasing doubt that a Democratic alternative acceptable to both houses can be prepared before the battle to override the veto.

The outlines of a program written by a task force directed by Sen. John O. Pastore, D-R.I., were adopted unanimously Tuesday by the Senate Democratic Policy Committee.

The basis of the Pastore program is a gasoline tax that increases gradually as the national economy recovers. The tax would be used to fund a search for alternative energy sources and to finance conservation efforts, including improving the efficiency of automobile engines and helping gas-fired power plants convert to coal.

Nicholas Drive Improvement Legislation OK'd By Council

Circleville City Council Tuesday passed a resolution declaring the necessity to improve Nicholas Drive between the Lancaster Pike and Northridge Road by installing curbs and gutters and sidewalks, one of the several steps involved in the Nicholas Drive Improvement project.

A letter from Atwood Jones, city service director, informed city council the estimated cost of the improvement to be assessed the property owners would be $5 per front foot for curb and gutter and $5 per front foot for sidewalks.

Property owners will have the option of paying for the improvements either in 15 annual installments with interest on unpaid installments or by paying in cash within 30 days after the passage of the ordinance levying such assessments.

Another related resolution fixing the value and depth of lands not subdivided into lots along Nicholas Drive for the purpose of a special front foot assessment was approved.

The properties involved in this resolution and values were: Free Will Baptist Church, 225 Moats Drive, $1,800 for lot No. 27 and $2,450 for lot No. 28; Church of God, 390 Nicholas Drive, $34,675; City Schools property, $400,000; Young Men's Christian Assn. of Columbus, $18,000; Virginia Replodge property, $40,000; Circleville Investment Co., $400,000.

An ordinance vacating Pearl Street from Washington Street east was approved after it was amended reserving all utility rights and easements to the city. The vacation of the street was asked by Carnation Co. (J. W. Eshelman & Sons Mill) because it owns the adjacent property and the street is not used as a public thoroughfare.

City service director Jones was authorized by ordinance to advertise for bids for the destruction and removal of buildings from 730, 734 and 736 S. Washington St. The properties were recently acquired by the city and the area will be used by the service department.

Fourteen ordinances pertaining to the salaries of city employees were read by title only in an unusual move by Council Tuesday and held for further study.

"This is the first time we have seen all the ordinances together," Goldschmidt said. "It appears the increases call for more money than was budgeted for salaries at the beginning of the year and there is only $12,000 unappropriated monies in the general fund."

Two ordinances changed the structure of the police and fire departments, creating the position of a captain in the fire department and a lieutenant in the police department.

The legislation provides for 13 firemen, three lieutenants, one captain and one fire chief, 13 policemen, three

Schlesinger Bids For Vietnam Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense James R. Schlesinger says at least the South Vietnamese countryside will be lost to insurgents if Congress rejects an extra $300 million military aid for the Saigon government.

The South Vietnamese government eventually will lose entirely if the United States does not fund it adequately "over a period of years," Schlesinger said Tuesday.

However, he refused to say how many years. The Ford administration has asked for $300 million for the current year ending June 30.

In testimony urging the House Armed Services Committee to approve $95 billion for military spending in fiscal 1976, Schlesinger said America could become a second-rate power if that sum is cut drastically.

"It may be the decision of the American people and Congress that we no longer wish to be a power second to none, although few are willing to step forward and state that," he said. "If that is so, we certainly are going in the right direction."

Schlesinger said any cuts by Congress in military spending would increase proportionately the risk that the United States would not be able to prevent Soviet "military preponderance" in the Eastern hemisphere, including Europe.

But several committee members, including Chairman Melvin Price, D-Ill., told Schlesinger bluntly that the money will be cut.

"We are going to make reductions wherever we find they can safely be made," Price said.

Schlesinger said the Soviet Union could acquire considerable military superiority over the United States by 1978 to 1980 if the two countries' present military spending trends continue.

Top Gilligan Aides Now Key Figures In Investigation

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Two top aides to former Gov. John J. Gilligan have emerged as key figures in investigations of charges that Democratic campaign workers got no-show state jobs after the November election.

Franklin County Prosecutor George C. Smith, who launched a grand jury probe Tuesday, said he plans to question Gilligan's chief of staff John E. Hansen and former administrative services director Joseph J. Sommer.

Hansen and two other Gilligan aides are scheduled to file depositions Friday in response to subpoenas issued by state Auditor Thomas E. Ferguson. Ferguson is scrutinizing payroll records in the departments of administrative services, industrial relations, liquor control and the Bureau of Motor Vehicles.

Smith said Tuesday he gave the grand jury a "briefing of the general outline of the case" and conferred with Ferguson on his investigation.

"We will be privy to witnesses and information that he (Ferguson) obtains in that office," Smith said. "He is arranging specifically for us to attend the questioning sessions Friday."

With the Ohio Highway Patrol checking hiring practices in industrial relations and the Department of Taxation, the investigations have now expanded to at least seven state agencies.

Sommer said Tuesday that 40 employees were hired through the governor's office last November on instructions from Hansen.

"He (Hansen) said he was going to be sending some names over of people who had been working on the campaign and needed to be placed," Sommer said.

The former personnel chief said he had been reluctant because "we had for all intents and purposes kind of a hiring freeze after the election." He quoted Hansen as saying:

"These people are going to have to work." Sommer added: "He raised his voice and shouted at me, 'I want these people hired.'"

"I interpreted that as a direct order," Sommer said.

However, Sommer said Hansen had agreed that anyone who was hired would be expected to report to their assignments full time.

Replying to published reports that some state employees had worked on the recount of Gilligan's election loss to Gov. James A. Rhodes, Sommer said, "At no time did I have any conversations with him (Hansen) about anyone working on the recount."

Meanwhile, John E. Kirkland, former director of the Ohio Lottery Commission, said he resigned his post because of hiring practices "being suggested and insisted on" by Hansen. Kirkland, who quit Jan. 9, said he was pressured by Hansen into hiring Democrats during the closing weeks of the Democratic administration.

Hansen, reached by telephone, refused to comment on the controversy. "I prefer not to," he said. Sommer, who has been working as the attorney general's chief of consumer frauds, resigned that post effective Friday.

He said the current controversy was not a factor in his decision and added that he expected to give Smith his "full cooperation."

"I haven't hid anything in this," he said. "I feel we tried very hard to do everything proper and legal."

He said he had informed Atty. Gen. William J. Brown of his decision last Feb. 10, "before this ever broke out."

In addition to Hansen, Ferguson has asked for depositions from Eugene "Pete" O'Grady, Gilligan's campaign manager, who returned to his job as highway safety director after the election, and Jay O. Tepper, Gilligan's former executive assistant.

Markets

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock prices were steady today, having recovered from early session lows as investors bought into market weakness.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials at noon was unchanged from Tuesday's close, resting at 731.30. It was down over five points earlier. Declines led advances 598 to 466 among 1,538 issues traded on the New York Stock Exchange.

Brokers said investors were awaiting a correction from the rally that has carried the Dow up over 100 points since Jan. 1, but noted they had orders to buy if the market showed such weakness.

The American Stock Exchange's market-value index was up .19 at 76.61.

On the Big Board, the composite index lost .04 to 42.88.

Chrysler Corp., which omitted its dividend today following its earlier disclosure of a $73.5-million fourth quarter loss, was off ¼ at 9½.

COUNCIL BRIEFS

A Nicholas Drive resident present at last night's council meeting expressed the opinion that assessments were too high for curb and gutter and sidewalk. Council President Joseph Bell advised the resident he has the right to appeal.

Councilman John Jenkins asked if the city is going to complete the proposed East High Street improvement soon. Residents of the area from Pickaway Street east three years ago petitioned for curbs and gutters. Mayor Frank Barnhill said the service department presently hopes to install the curb and gutter this summer. The mayor said the service department plans to combine the East High Street, Atwater Ave. and Ted Lewis Park entrance projects for the purpose of bidding and hopes to be able to let the bids in May.

Other proposed improvement projects in the planning stages are curb and gutter for Rosewood Ave. and a storm sewer for the Park Place area.

John Evans was present to ask council why no action had been taken to install a street light at the intersection of Meadow Drive and Northridge Road. Evans reminded council he had requested the light several months ago. After discussion, the request was again referred to the service committee for study.

Councilman Tom Wells was absent from Tuesday's meeting. He was being inducted into the Circleville BPO Elks club.

Council members present were: Goldschmidt, Jenkins, David Crawford, Ben Gordon, Dixie Watters, Harold Hoffman, President Joe Bell, Clerk Robert Shadley and city at-

Labor Leaders To Take Part In Politics

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Many labor leaders are expected to continue an active role in Democratic party affairs despite the AFL-CIO's official declaration of noninvolvement in internal party politics.

AFL-CIO President George Meany said Tuesday that union chiefs and state federation officials serving on the Democratic National Committee do so as individuals without "any influence from the AFL-CIO."

He said the labor federation as a body "will take no position whatsoever" in picking the 1976 presidential candidate.

Some AFL-CIO officials meeting here believe Meany could be laying the groundwork for a possible endorsement of Vice President Nelson A. Rockefeller, should Rockefeller decide to seek the Republican presidential nomination.

Meany has shown no preference for any of the announced Democratic candidates. He has refused comment about Rockefeller's prospects.

The vice president is a longtime friend of Meany and already is being discussed favorably by the building trades unions, who could be expected to support him. Two Rockefeller aides are here this week meeting with labor leaders.

Meany said the AFL-CIO would decide what candidate, if any, to support once the Democratic and Republican parties make their nominations.

"We came to a unanimous conclusion that the AFL-CIO has no desire to influence the internal structure of either the Republican or Democratic party," Meany said at a news conference in behalf of the federation's 35-member executive council.

Sertoma Club Hears History Of Sound

B. L. Bauer, division Public Affairs Manager for General Telephone's Southern Division headquartered in Portsmouth, was guest speaker at the Pickaway Plains Sertoma Club meeting Feb. 18.

He spoke of the history of recorded and transmitted sound, beginning with Alexander Graham Bell, inventor of the telephone in 1876.

Later, Thomas Edison invented the record player and following World War I, the electronic phonograph was invented and a telephone system was contrived. Bauer noted that it cost $29 to call by phone coast-to-coast in 1929.

World War II technology vastly improved the recording and radio industry, he said.

Bauer predicted talking computers which will provide automatic translation of telephone conversations when calling foreign countries and computers that will provide the average American with a wealth of information by telephone in the future.

He highlighted the presentation with authentic reproductions of famous sound transmissions from the past, beginning with Bell's first words and culminating with the actual reproduction of the human voice by a computer.

Pageant Set For March 21 In Chillicothe

The Miss South Central Ohio Pageant will be held 8 p.m. March 21 in the Chillicothe High School Auditorium and not March 10 as reported in Tuesday's edition of The Herald.

Five Pickaway County girls are candidates in the re-established event.

The pageant is being prepared by the Chillicothe Sigma Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority.

Dan Prickett, producer and director of the pageant, noted the rehearsals are under way for the major musical production.

Missionary Service Set In Williamsport

The Williamsport Church of Christ in Christian Union is holding a Missionary service 7:30 p.m. Wednesday. Ruth McLain, Missionary from New Guinea, is the speaker.

Community Church Plans Family Living Encounter

The Community United Methodist Church is planning a Festival of Christian Living for four Sunday evenings, Feb. 23 through March 16.

The evening will begin at 6:30 with a Family Living Encounter, an intergenerational setting geared to the family and its values. The first week will involve small groups engaged in various activities, and the viewing of the movie, "The Stray."

At 7:30 each evening, there will be a brief Family Worship, led by a different participating family each week. The first week the James Sutton family will be in charge.

After a brief break, there will be study groups for all participants from 8 to 9 p.m.

"Hi, God" is a music experience for children, led by Barb Kibby. The Junior High youth will see the filmstrip "Becoming More Independent," led by Neal and Shirley Wolfe.

Adult classes are: "Psychic Phenomenon," led by Frank Hoffman; "Transactional Analysis," led by Jim and Ramona Edman; "Second Isaiah," led by Lawrence Lewis; and "Death and Dying," led by the Rev. David F. Frazer with Dr. William A. Myers as a resource person.

What To Say About Retarded Children

DEAR ABBY: "Touchy Problem" asked whether she should ask her friend about her severely brain-damaged child who was in an institution. Your reply: "Be kind. Don't bring up anything that might make your friend uncomfortable."

Well, maybe if you were on the other side of the fence you could understand the situation better.

We have a retarded daughter, but we never mention her, for fear of making our friends uncomfortable. However, when people ask about her, we are delighted, and will talk as long as they care to listen.

Please print this letter, and thousands of parents will thank you for coming out of the Dark Ages, and spreading a little sunshine for the families of the handicapped.

A MOTHER WHO KNOWS
DEAR MOTHER: Another mother who views the situation from your side of the fence wrote with the perfect solution:

DEAR ABBY: Two of our four sons are in a residential facility for retarded children. When friends ask me how my two normal children are, and fail to mention the two who are retarded I assume that THEY are uncomfortable with the subject, so as a kindness to THEM I don't mention the retarded boys. But oh, how I appreciate those who ask about all four boys!

I think the best way for friends to handle the situation is to ask, "How are ALL your children?" Then take their cue from the response.

S.S.
DEAR ABBY: I am a Protestant who has been married to a Catholic for six months. It seems that my husband considers sex (normal sex, that is) a mortal sin.

He goes to confession once a week and tells the priest everything that goes on in our bedroom, and I do mean EVERYTHING!

He tells me that the priest says that I am a source of sin to him!

All this is affecting our marriage. I feel that there are three of us in bed every night—my husband, myself and the parish priest. I am beginning to avoid my husband in all physical contacts as I do not wish to be considered a source of sin to anyone. I am a very decent person.

Before any children are conceived, do you think I should continue in this marriage?

PUZZLED
DEAR PUZZLED: You are wise to wonder. Marital relations are not considered "sinful" by the Catholic church. The parish priest surely knows this. Insist that your husband discuss this with the bishop. If your husband refuses, he needs to see a doctor—and so does the parish priest. And you should see a lawyer!

DEAR ABBY: May I please use your column to say something I have been wanting to say for years?

Dear People:
Leave me alone. I'm handicapped, and it shows. Don't ask me: "What happened to your legs? Don't ask me: "What happened to your arms?" Don't ask me: "What happened to your face?" Don't ask me anything!

And I mean YOU. Don't think: "She doesn't mean me. I'm only asking because I'm concerned."

No, you're not. You're just being nosy. You're an insensitive clod if you question me after reading this. And I'm telling you you're a clod the next time you bother me.

Just leave me alone. Leave us all alone! The next time you see a handicapped person, just keep your mouth shut!

Thank you for printing this, Abby. I hope this stops some strangers from harrasing us. Please, no name or location.

Chrysler Loses $52 Million; Line Of Credit Arranged

DETROIT (AP) — Chrysler Corp., hit by a fourth-quarter 1974 deficit of $73.5 million to cap its worst year ever, has arranged a cushion of new credit of more than $1 billion.

For the year, Chrysler posted a loss of $52 million, compared with a $29.6 million loss in the recession year of 1958. Sales of $11 billion last year were off 7.2 per cent from $11.8 billion in 1973.

Chrysler said its sales in the fourth quarter of 1974 plummeted 27 per cent to $2.5 billion, from $3.4 billion in the same period a year earlier.

In 1973, Chrysler had profits of $255 million, including $74.4 million in the fourth quarter.

To meet growing debts, Chrysler officials said Monday they have lined up credit agreements with about 200 banks for $1.075 billion. The firm lists total assets of $6.7 billion.

Chrysler Chairman Lynn Townsend said the financing was necessary to "assure the continued availability of needed financial reserves."

Although all four major U.S. auto makers confronted essentially the same problems of gasoline shortages, inflation and recession in 1974, the only loss was expected at Chrysler.

Financial analysts say Chrysler can be expected to lose another $25 million to $50 million this quarter and may operate in the red for the entire year.

General Motors' profits fell to $950 million from $2.4 billion the year before. Ford Motor Co. reports later this week. American Motors earned $27 million in its fiscal year, which ended Oct. 30.

Townsend and Chrysler President John Riccardo blamed the general economic decline and government efforts to control inflation for the dramatic sales slump of the fourth quarter.

"Even though the gasoline shortage soon eased, auto sales continued to lag because of political uncertainty, high interest rates, severe inflation, and weakening consumer confidence," they said.

Critics of the firm say Chrysler failed to move quickly enough to cut production when it became apparent that 1975 model cars weren't selling. At one point Chrysler had a 140-day inventory of unsold cars, double what is considered ample.

Chrysler has 59,550 of its 114,000 hourly workers on layoff, compared with 39 per cent for the industry as a whole. In addition, half of Chrysler's 39,000 white collar workers have been on brief or indefinite layoff since Thanksgiving. The firm has been offering early retirement to some salaried workers over the age of 55.

Ohio Bell Rate Boost Fight Set

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Columbus and other Ohio cities are seeking expert legal aid to challenge Ohio Bell Telephone Co.'s proposed $216 million rate increase.

Thomas Donovan, assistant director of the Columbus Department of Public Utilities, said Robert White, a Cincinnati attorney who is a specialist in utility law, estimated legal services in the group suit at $150,000 to $200,000.

White's cost estimate includes the assistance of a Washington D. C. rate consultant who helped the cities successfully battle a telephone rate hike before the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio two years ago, Donovan said.

Donovan said Dayton, Akron, Massillon, Youngstown, Springfield, Canton, Steubenville and Toledo tentatively have agreed to participate in the mass legal action. "And we have hopes for Cleveland," he added.

"We're going to have to find out from each (city) council, including ourselves, how much we can get and then work with what we get," Donovan said. The cities will pay a proportionate share of the legal fees based on the number of telephones in the area, he said.

Columbus' share, if Cleveland does not join the costly fray, could be 25 per cent, or about $50,000, Donovan said.

"We'll have some kind of an idea within a few weeks," he said.

The rate hike issue is further confused, Donovan said, because Ohio Bell has asked for two rate increases — an interim rate hike and a permanent increase — and two hearings. Dates are to be set, he said.

Revolution's Origins

When plans first got underway several years ago to celebrate the United States bicentennial, several among the original 13 states began vying for the honors of being named the birthplace of the nation. From the site of the Continental Congress to the location of the shot heard 'round the world and the state which produced the most signers of the Declaration of Independence, at least half the original 13 claimed the title.

About that point the Bicentennial Commission decided against naming one community the bicentennial city and opted instead for many local and state observances. The furore over who was first died.

Only temporarily, as it turned out. Now the claim is made by several states that the American Revolution actually began within their borders. Eminent historians can disagree on that point with equal justification.

The truth of the matter is there was no instant beginning. Patriots had been at war with the crown singly and in groups for years before any form of organized resistance emerged. Paul Revere's ride, the Boston Tea Party, the capture of the British garrison guarding the entrance to Portsmouth harbor, the Battle of Bunker Hill, boarding and burning of the British patrol ship Gaspe on Narragansett Bay — all these and numerous other incidents are cited as the spark which inspired the Revolution.

Again, it is impossible to say. The American Revolution was more the result of a spontaneous reaction by many individuals rather than a planned conspiracy. The very nature of that uncoordinated spontaneity may have been the prime factor which eventually led to success.

Comedown Of An Astronaut

ON THE LINE
By BOB CONSIDINE

NEW YORK — Sick (cq) Transit Gloria Notes:

Just about everybody could stand an extra buck or two these days. But it's sad to watch astronaut Pete Conrad downgrading himself in a television commercial plugging a credit card. Even the best credit card.

Conrad is a gifted, courageous member of a small band of incredible adventurers whose ranks have been sorely decimated for 1) lack of government appropriations and 2) the public's jaded interest in manned space flight. He made two exciting trips away from our mortal coil, once with Gordon Cooper for 190 hours, 55 minutes and 14 seconds in a Gemini, and then he commanded Apollo 12 on its 244 hour, 36 minute and 25 second trip to the moon.

The Gemini earth orbit proved the feasibility of generating onboard electrical power by means of fuel cells, without which exotic chemistry no extended future space flight could have been made. During the moon trip, the second such incredible achievement, Conrad and his partner Alan Bean collected nearly 75 pounds of moon rocks and brought them back for U.S. and world scientists to marvel over.

Now, on TV, he says in effect, "You won't remember me, but you'll recognize this card..."

If the world had neglected surface navigators as we have forgotten our spacemen, America might still belong to its rightful owners, the aborigines Columbus foolishly called Indians.

The credit card company is on safer grounds, of course, when it brings on a nice-looking black-haired bloke who looks the camera in the eye and states, with a trace of sadness, "You don't remember me but I once ran for Vice President of the United States."

Even after Bill Miller says that, it's hard to remember him. Lots of people apparently forgot him even while he was running with Barry Goldwater in 1964 against incumbent Lyndon Johnson and LBJ's teammate Hubert Humphrey. The Electoral College totals in that race were 486 for the Democrats, 52 for the Republicans.

We must hold the world's record for forgetting politicians. Who, for example, were FDR's three Vice Presidents in succession? Who were Tom Dewey's two running mates? Adlai Stevenson's two? Nixon's? Willie's in 1940? George Wallace's in 1968? George McGovern's in 1972?

To relieve the terrible suspense they were 1) John Nance Garner, Henry Wallace and Harry Truman; 2) John Bricker and Earl Warren; 3) John Sparkman and Estes Kefauver; 4) Henry Cabot Lodge and Spiro Agnew (and Gerald Ford); 5) Charles L. McNary; 6) Curtis LeMay, and 7) Thomas F. Eagleton, for a bit, then Sargent Shriver.

We're rough on runners-up, too. If you have the answers you can win a small fortune at any bar, particularly very late at night, if you know who stands third in the all-time list of homerun hitters, after Hank and Babe; who Jim Braddock beat to win the heavyweight championship; who won the then greatest golf match between Bobby Jones and Walter Hagen; who beat David after he beat Goliath, and who killed Cock Robin.

Henry Kissinger goes about his Middle East peace missions in the wrong way. Cajolery is for the birds. He should end all threats of another war by giving both sides an equal number of A-bombs and H-bombs. Then, as in the case of the U.S. and the Soviet Union, neither side would dare attack for fear of instant retaliation.

New York's most recent snow cost $1,000,000 to remove, partly because the city's snow-removal people had to be paid time and a half to work. It was Lincoln's birthday, see? The Great Emancipator may have been confused when informed by his security man, Allan Pinkerton.

John Lindsay was almost driven out of office because of a heavy snowfall in 1969. He looked back wistfully on an earlier New York mayor, a Tammany man who, when angry burghers demanded to know why he hadn't cleared a blizzard off the streets, shrugged and said, "The good Lord put it there; let Him take it away."

Business World

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — One thing that the high inflation and interest rates have done is to rout demand. All through the marketplace the evidence of retreat is visible—in stocks, the retail sales level, the savings rate.

At the beginning of this week the stocks in the Dow Jones industrial average were selling at only 7.4 times their earnings, compared to ratios just under 20 during boom times.

Merely by returning to "normal," the price-earnings ratio would mean a doubling of stock prices, which is one of the reasons some large institutions have finally committed themselves to buying.

Whether it continues depends upon how much confidence lies behind the figures. At a ratio of 7.4 per cent, confidence obviously is very low. Now the market has to discover if the ratio is justified.

The smothering of demand is clearly visible in the level of retail sales, which appear higher than a year ago but which really aren't. They are way off.

The illusion of improvement results solely from inflation. In one week this month, for example, retail sales were 5 per cent higher than a year ago. But that turns into a minus of the same size when discounted for inflation.

A lowering of purchasing demand is an obvious consequence of falling buying power and rising unemployment, but the decline has been even more pronounced by an increase in the savings rate.

In the fourth quarter of the year the savings rate leaped from 6.6 per cent all the way to 8.5, the apparent result of already insecure workers cutting their spending as low as possible.

Based on at least one set of figures, disposable after-tax income, consumers are in a position to keep those retail purchases higher. They chose not to do so.

Industry also is choosing not to spend. There is no magic in the decline of the prime lending rates — and in fact, most interest rates. It isn't that there's an overflow of money; the Federal Reserve hasn't been that generous.

Bankers tell you they're lowering lending rates because potential borrowers just aren't showing any inclination to borrow. Just a few months ago, you may remember, precisely the opposite condition existed.

Further confirmation that demand has been routed comes from the polls of consumers and business purchasing agents. Both have become conservers rather than spenders. To not buy has become a goal.

While this was indeed a desirable goal when the emphasis was on fighting inflation, it isn't in terms of fighting recession. Now the nation's efforts are aimed at arousing some spending desire.

Speaking Of Your Health

My mother had a stroke six months ago. She is still paralyzed on one side. Her speech was affected at first, but now seems to be getting better. I would like to know if the paralysis, too, may eventually disappear.

Miss E. B. N., Fla.

Dear Miss N.:

In order to best understand a stroke, a little scientific knowledge may be helpful.

In normal health, the heart pumps blood to all the parts of the body, and keeps the organs nourished with a sufficient amount of oxygen.

The blood vessels from the heart pass through the neck to the brain to supply it with the life-giving oxygen. Any interference with the free flow of blood to the brain can cause a cerebrovascular accident (CVA), which is known as a "stroke."

A hemorrhage due to rupture or tear in one of these blood vessels is one of the major causes of stroke. Sometimes, a spasm of an artery in the brain, due to tobacco or drugs, can temporarily interfere with the free flow of blood.

An aneurysm is a weakness in the wall of a blood vessel. If this should rupture a hemorrhage and a stroke can result.

Narrowing of the blood vessels due to arteriosclerosis also can reduce the blood supply to the brain and produce a

Dim The Lights

By JIM BISHOP

There is an emergence of tragic truth in America. As a people, we are more emotional than intellectual. Somewhere in this great blessed land there is a professor of political science who should be President of the United States. He is unsung, unknown, but he's out there.

Gerald Ford, I fear, will make the cool pages of history as the greatest example of the Peter Principle — taking a good man out of a good job and promoting him to one in which he is bumbling and inept.

This is not the President's fault. In Congress, he was a better Minority Leader than Charley Halleck. He worked tirelessly for a communion of interest between the Republicans and the conservative Southern Democrats. As a party wheelhorse, he was superb.

When he assumed the August office of President last August, we reveled in his open countenance, his flashy smile, the fact that he often made his own breakfast. When Mrs. Ford became ill, we felt ill. It is our habit to identify with a man who is "like us."

The fires of unemployment were creeping across the land, fanned by the hurricane of inflation, and our boy said with some surprise, "I like being President." This column and others sounded the brass bells of alarm but his secretary said that Mr. Ford would be cautious, and wait, rather than risk a wrong move.

Almost a half-year later, the President made a fist-pounding speech in which he said that the American people "want action now!" His program, the product of many tiring skull sessions with experts, would toss a big tax on imported oil.

We import six million barrels a day, and pay $66 million every 24 hours for it. It seemed not to occur to anyone that the homeowners, car owners, factories and public utilities which use this oil are virtually all on the eastern seaboard. If you live anywhere west of Pittsburgh, you probably use U.S. oil from American wells in Texas and Oklahoma.

The tax then is inequitable, to be paid by those who live and work between Maine and Florida. This was followed by a tax rebate which should have applied only to the poor, but included the affluent. And that colossal mistake was followed by a deficit budget guaranteed to put this nation in debt for generations.

I drove through four states, clocking cars. Take my word for it, anyone who dared reduce his speed to 55 miles per hour would be arrested for obstructing

Surface Mine Bill Comes Under Fire

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The state's proposed surface mining performance standards were termed unreasonable, inflexible and costly by surface mine operators testifying at a public hearing Monday.

"Every surface mine in the state is different," said a spokesman for the Ohio Manufacturers Association.

He said the proposed standards are "too specific for the many types of operations in Ohio."

Robert A. Wilkinson, managing director of Ohio Aggregates Association in Columbus, said the proposals are "generally unreasonable and many are not realistic."

He said the proposals often exceed the requirements of the state's new surface mining law and would result in costly expenditures.

Doris Kimble of Kimble Clay and Limestone Co. in Dover said the paperwork required by the proposals could cripple small operators.

The proposed standards were drawn by the Division of Reclamation.

The Ohio Surface Mine Law, passed last June by the General Assembly, requires the reclamation of surface mining areas where minerals other than coal are extracted.

A representative of the Brick Institute of America said some of the proposals called for a duplication of existing regulations.

He pointed out, for example, that the proposed rules for detonating explosives "should be deleted because explosives are already governed under existing law."

The president of Davon, Inc., which operates three crushed stone plants in the state, suggested that the standards should "consist of fewer specific requirements."

"The Division of Reclamation should base its approval on the individual merits of each reclamation plan," he said.

Reclamation Division chief George C. Evans said he found the criticisms constructive.

"There's no way we can know all the conditions in the field," he said.

He said standards are needed which are flexible but which can be uniformly applied.

He said that based on the testimony presented by some 25 persons at the day-long hearing, the division probably would "decrease the amount of specifics in the regulations and leave more latitude to the operators."

Phosphate Ban Aids Indiana Water Cleanup

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — A preliminary report by the State Board of Health credits a ban on phosphates in laundry detergents with cleaning up many Indiana lakes and reservoirs.

John L. Winters, chief of the board's water quality surveillance section, said Tuesday 27 lakes were tested for year-around phosphorus content and 25 had dropped to an extremely low level.

In a report given the Indiana Stream Pollution Control Board, Winters said when phosphorus levels are low, it helps keep oxygen in the water from being used up.

He also said the two lakes not listed as low in phosphates all the time were at a very low phosphate level at least part of the year.

The report also said the percentage of phosphorus in sewage being treated at municipal sewage plants had risen slightly during the year.

Panel Of American Women Present Program For NSA

An International program was the theme for the Thursday evening meeting of Roundtown Chapter, National Secretaries Assn., at Pickaway Arms.

Installed as new members were Bernice Lutz and Ann Counts, secretaries at RCA, by Maxine Andregg and Joy Slone.

During the business session Maxine Andregg, president, appointed Sara Jane Huffins, Joyce Carpenter and Jeannie Moore to the nominating committee. June West was appointed coordinator for the International Convention to be held in Montreal, Canada, in July. She will make arrangements for those planning to attend.

It was announced the Ohio Division meeting of NSA will be held May 16th-18th at Salt Fork Lodge, Cambridge. Dorothy Ann Evans was appointed coordinator for the event and reservations are to be made with her at this time.

The NSA's International program was focused on the topic of "Political Science." Four members of the local chapter, working for various forms of government, outlined their duties and functions of their specific form of government.

Leona Riegel, Chief Deputy Clerk Probate Court spoke on the judicial form of government. Her topic was "Human Relations In Political Science." She related how the judges are both elected and appointed and at what levels this takes place. She also stated that at some time in our life our names will appear in the records of the court, either through birth, marriage, or death.

Maxine Andregg, county office assistant, of the Farmers Home Administration, explained the workings of a federal agency. Civil Service examinations are required in this form of government. She outlined the functions of her office and stated the primary purpose is to make loans to farmers for repairs, sewage systems, machinery, equipment, etc. Joyce Carpenter on the staff of Governor James Rhodes outlined some of the things that were of interest to her which take place in this office. These are extraditions, paroles, land leases, personnel, news releases and visiting dignitaries.

Charles Forsythe, secretary to Chief of Building Management Service at the Veterans Administration Hospital at Chillicothe outlined his duties in this form of government. He stated there are 1300 employees at the hospital and 1150 patients. These primarily are from World War I and II, a small number coming from the Vietnam conflict. The number of patients in the past has been well over 2000. Extensive remodeling is going on at the hospital and an open house will be held later. Announcement of this will be in the newspaper.

The balance of the program was presented by The Panel of American Women, an independent organization informing the public of the different aspects of human relations. Participating were Miss Irmgard Modlich representing the Catholics; Mrs. Jennie Rowland the Jews; Mrs. Renee Kbel's the black minority, and Mrs. Jane Reisman representing the white majority. Each of the women gave a short resume of her life and how religion and race have affected each of them. A question and answer period followed.

Family Dinner

Salisbury steak, potatoes, broccoli, rolls, Meringue bread pudding.

Salisbury Steak

Requested by a reader.
1/2 cup soft bread crumbs
3/4 cup milk
1 1/2 pounds ground chuck beef
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
1/8 teaspoon pepper
1 tablespoon finely grated onion, pulp and juice
Butter or margarine, melted

In a mixing bowl soak the crumbs in the milk; add the remaining ingredients except the butter and mix well. Turn out on wax paper and shape into a 1-inch thick patty; invert onto a greased broiler rack that has perforations rather than grids; remove paper. Broil several inches from high heat about 10 minutes; with 2 wide spatulas, turn meat. Brush with butter. Continue broiling until meat is no longer pink in center (cut a small slash to see) — about 7 minutes longer. Use spatulas to remove to heated serving platter. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

QUICK SUPPER

Different succotash, dill pickles, rye bread, fruit and cheese.

Different Succotash

A flavorsome combination.
7-ounce can whole kernel golden corn

1 teaspoon curry powder
1 teaspoon prepared mustard
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1 tablespoon instant minced onion
16-ounce can oven-baked beans with pork and tomato sauce
2 tablespoons bacon drippings
Hot cooked rice
4 slices bacon, crisply cooked and crumbled

In a 1 1/2-quart saucepan drain the liquid from the corn; whisk in, with a fork, the curry powder mustard and Worcestershire sauce until blended; stir in corn, onion, beans and bacon drippings. Heat slowly, stirring several times, until extremely hot. Serve over hot cooked rice and sprinkle with the bacon. Makes 4 small servings.

To tell whether a custard sauce is done, dip a silver spoon into the hot mixture. If the custard forms a straight line across the spoon, the mixture should be removed from the heat immediately. If the line is wavy, the custard has not thickened quite enough.

Child Study Club Hears Discussion By Jim Fletcher

Jim Fletcher, a guidance counselor at Logan Elm High School, was guest speaker for the Monday evening meeting of Circleville Child Study Club in the home of Julie Plum, Route 1. Jo Smallwood was co-hostess for the evening.

Twenty members heard his discussion concerning communication and discipline of children. A question and answer period followed.

Taxpayers Ask IRS

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

(Q) I have two installments of Federal taxes that I want to pay at the same time—the balance due on my 1974 tax liability and the first installment of my 1975 Declaration of Estimated Tax. Is it alright to pay these amounts with one check?

(A) If you pay two Federal taxes at the same time, you should write separate checks or money orders. Place your social security number on the checks or money orders. Business taxpayers should use their employer identification numbers.

(Q) I work full time, but I also make a little spending money from doing hairdressing at home. Do I have to pay self-employment tax on this sideline income?

(A) You must file an income tax return and pay self-employment tax if you have net earnings from self-employment of $400 or more, even if you are 65 or over and are receiving social security benefits. If you had wages in 1974 that were subject to social security tax, you must subtract them from $13,200, the 1974 wage base subject to social security tax, to determine the maximum amount subject to self-employment tax. If your wages subject to social security tax are at least $13,200, none of your net earnings from self-employment as a hairdresser is subject to this tax. In 1975, the amount of wages subject to social security tax will increase from $13,200 to $14,100, but the rate for computing the tax will stay the same at 7.9 per cent.

(Q) How can I get an extension of time to file if I can't file my tax return by April 15?

(A) You may receive an automatic two-month extension of time to file your tax return by filling out in duplicate Form 4868, Application for Automatic Extension of Time to File U.S. Individual Income Tax Return. In filling out Form 4868, you must make a tentative tax estimate for the year. The original of the application must be filed, on or before April 15, with the Internal Revenue Service Center for your area. You must also make full payment of any tax due with the application. The duplicate Form 4868 should be attached to the completed tax return when it is filed as evidence of the extension. You may not use Short Form 1040A or elect to have the IRS compute your tax if you apply for an extension of time to file.

(Q) When am I supposed to file and pay my estimated tax for 1975?

(A) Your declaration of estimated tax for the calendar year 1975 must be filed on or before April 15, 1975, the same date your income tax return for 1974 is due. Use Form 1040-ES, Declaration of Estimated Tax for Individuals. You may pay the estimated tax in four equal installments if you do not wish to pay the full amount when you file your declaration. The dates for paying the installments are April 15, June 16 and September 15 in 1975, and January 15, 1976.

CIA Probe Panel Hears Osborn

WASHINGTON (AP) — Howard J. Osborn for 10 years headed the CIA's security office, the unit that straddled the thin gray line separating the CIA's legitimate domestic activities from what critics claim are illegal operations.

Responsible for guarding against leaks of classified information and protecting agency installations, the security office directed break-ins at the homes of CIA employees and infiltrated American radical groups, according to public statements by CIA Director William E. Colby.

What role Osborn personally performed in these operations is unknown. Osborn, 57, testified Monday before a closed session of the Rockefeller commission which is looking into the CIA's domestic activities.

Osborn's 27-year CIA career ended with the controversy over the so-called Pennington affair involving one of his former subordinates, convicted Watergate burglar James McCord.

According to Sen. Howard H. Baker's investigation of CIA involvement in Watergate, Lee R. Pennington, an agency operative, was sent to McCord's home shortly after the June 1972 break-in at Democratic headquarters and witnessed the destruction of documents linking the Watergate burglar to the agency.

The Baker report says Osborn attempted to cover up the affair by ordering the Pennington materials removed from CIA files on Watergate when they were about to be reviewed by the agency's inspector general in connection with furnishing material to congressional committees.

When the Pennington affair was revealed, Osborn went on extended sick leave which began in March 1974 and lasted until his official retirement in December.

Quadrupled Tax On Taconite Eyed

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) — A spokesman for the taconite industry in northeastern Minnesota has accused Gov. Wendell Anderson of proposing to break a promise to the industry by calling for "exorbitant increases" in the taconite production tax.

Anderson Monday night recommended that the tax be nearly quadrupled, from 33 cents to $1.25 per ton of taconite pellets and be tied to the price of finished sheet steel.

Aides to the governor said the skyrocketing price of steel, the massive expansion of the taconite industry in Minnesota and the fear of underpricing irreplaceable resources had led to the decision.

Lottery Chief Man In Middle

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Lottery Commission's new director, Robert S. Malaga, might be called the man in the middle.

He was hired by Gov. James A. Rhodes, but his bosses will be the commissioners hired by former Gov. John J. Gilligan.

"The commission runs everything and does everything," Commissioner

Louis Goldman bluntly told Malaga at their first meeting. "The director does what he is told."

A week later, Malaga smiled and said that he probably was one of the few new employees ever chewed out before he went to work.

"I wasn't even on the payroll then," he said.

Malaga, who has a national reputation as a promoter for the Cleveland Indians and the U.S. Lawn Tennis Association, said he is getting along well with the commissioners.

"I talk to them almost daily and I don't think we have any problems," he said. "I'm a positive person. I get along with people."

Malaga, 48, a bachelor, said his only instructions from Rhodes were to promote the lottery.

"There's a lot of bugs still in it, but this is a new experiment," he said. "I don't think there's anything we can't work out."

Malaga believes there is a similarity between tennis promoting and the lottery.

"For 100 years tennis was played in fancy places and people didn't get involved," he said. "When they got involved tennis became popular."

Malaga said his own gambling habits were limited to gin rummy and buying a couple of lottery tickets each week at his cigar store.

"I don't really like the idea of a Las Vegas operation," he said, "but if people want to spend 50 cents or $1 and have some fun, I don't see where there's any harm," he said.

By earmarking 40 per cent of revenues for prizes, Malaga believes the Ohio lottery is a fair and fun-way for state programs to benefit from the gaming urge.

An attorney, Malaga was co-chairman of Rhodes' Cuyahoga County campaign. He served five years as executive director of the U.S. Lawn Tennis Association. He headed up a 1964 drive to keep the Cleveland Indians baseball team.

Pressure On Fed Included In Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Proposals to require the Federal Reserve Board to increase the money supply and to empower the Fed and the president to allocate credit will win the approval of the House Banking Committee this week, Chairman Henry S. Reuss predicts.

The proposals, which are vigorously opposed by the Ford administration, are up for subcommittee action today, and then consideration by the full committee Thursday before going to the House floor next week, the Wisconsin Democrat said.

The bill directing the Fed to increase the money supply was amended Monday to delete the requirement that the money supply be increased at least six per cent a year. Instead, the bill now would instruct the Fed to conduct its monetary policy "to lower long-term interest rates and thus do its part in promptly and steadily reducing unemployment."

Democrats have contended that the Fed's tight money policy has helped drive the nation into recession.

Federal Reserve Chairman Arthur F. Burns said the bill would wreck chances for an economic recovery and would constitute an untenable political intrusion into the independence of the Fed.

The original proposal on credit allocation would direct the Fed to see that money was steered toward housing, agriculture, productive business investments and state and local governments.

Subcommittee Chairman Wright Patman, D-Tex., a longtime critic of the Federal Reserve, objected to giving the Fed that much more power.

During meetings Monday between Reuss and Patman, the bill was changed to give the powers of allocating credit to the president and the Federal Reserve.

Credit would be discouraged for conglomerate take-overs, overseas investments, gold speculation and some real estate developments.

Treasury Secretary William E. Simon has opposed the allocation proposal on the ground it would create a "credit police state."

Reuss and Patman split the two proposals into separate bills, segregating the more controversial credit allocation proposal in hopes of attracting more support for the money supply bill.

Train Derails At Mark Center

MARK CENTER, Ohio (AP) — Twenty cars of a Baltimore & Ohio freight train were derailed Tuesday in this western Ohio community 15 miles from the Indiana border, a deputy in the Defiance County sheriff's office said.

The eastbound train of an undetermined length was carrying lumber, scrap metal and empty containers, the deputy said.

CHICKEN EXCELS IN PROTEIN VALUE
 Many homemakers are finding that chicken is an economical, versatile and nutritious meat. Chicken is an especially good buy this week. Holly Farms Grade A whole fryers are a meat department special.
 Chicken is an excellent source of many nutrients, particularly protein. A three and one-half ounce serving of chicken provides 66.2 per cent of the Recommended Daily Allowance (RDA) for protein. This is slightly more than the protein RDA that an equal serving of beef provides.
 There are hundreds of different ways to prepare chicken. This is a basic recipe for simmering chicken that can later be used in recipes calling for cooked chicken.
 1 Broiler-Fryer Chicken 3 Celery Tops
 2 Cups Water 1 Tsp. Salt
 1 Small Onion, Sliced ¼ Tsp. Pepper
 Put the chicken in a kettle. Add water and remaining ingredients. Bring to a boil and cover tightly. Reduce heat and simmer about one hour or until fork tender. Remove from heat and strain broth. Refrigerate chicken and broth at once. When chicken is cool, remove meat from skin and bones and cut into chunks.
 A three-pound fryer chicken yields about two and one-half cups diced cooked chicken and two to two and one-half cups of chicken broth. The chicken can be used in salads, casseroles and creamed dishes.

BIG BEAR - FIRST & FINEST SUPERMARKET IN CIRCLEVILLE!

Kingston News

ALICE CANTER
642-3044

The Kingston Pentecostal Church will hold revival services beginning Feb. 26 and extending through March 1. The Reverend James Justice is pastor of the church and guest evangelist will be the Reverend Charles Ragland from Chillicothe. The public is cordially invited.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Immell, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Deihl, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Barnhart and family, all of near Kingston and Mr. and Mrs. Chuck Smith and family and Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Hoffman of Laurelville were guests when Mrs. Larry Lauerman gave a surprise birthday party for her husband last Monday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Wisenberger of South Point and Miss Lois Wisenberger of Dayton were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Adams and son, Christopher.

The Kingston American Legion has completed preliminary plans for sending two students from the Zane Trace School District to Boy's State this year. They are also soliciting anything anyone will send their way for a rummage sale. Positive dates will be made known later.

They are going to have another chicken-noodle supper on March 8 since the other was a success and people have asked for another.

This Saturday is the regular fish fry but this will be a complete dinner-potato salad, baked beans etc.

Last year the Legion had a hog-roast for its membership. This year on the Memorial Day weekend, May 31, they are having another for the public. This will follow the Legion's regular visits to the various cemeteries. Times to be noted later.

Mr. and Mrs. James Parker (Caroline West) have named their first child, a son born at 3:11 a.m. Feb. 9 in Berger Hospital, Adam James. He weighed 7 lbs., 6 oz. His grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Walter Parker Jr. of Route 1, Kingston, and Mrs. Mabel West of Circleville. Paternal great-grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Kelson Bower, Route 1, Circleville and Walter Parker Sr. of Whisler.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Kerns celebrated their 40th wedding anniversary Sunday when her sister, Mrs. H. J. Swain entertained with dinner in their honor at her home in Columbus. Guests in addition to the honored couple were their son and daughter-in-law and their two grandchildren, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Kerns, Kent and Kacia; another sister, Mrs. William Shaffer; and Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Swain, Columbus.

A team from the Ladies Monday Night League at Shawnee Lanes and sponsored by the First National Bank in Kingston, were in Middletown Sunday where they bowled in the Ohio Women's State Bowling Tournament. The team bowled a 2984 series which gave them a fourth place and Mrs. Tom Brown rolled 690 in singles for first place.

Other members of the team are Mrs. Betty Sims, Mrs. Edna Arnett and Mrs. Ruth Knisley, all of Kingston, and Mrs. Bernice King, of Chillicothe. Mrs. Brown is also from Chillicothe.

Mrs. Glenn Ross spent Sunday with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Don Dearth and son Dancy.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Beavers, their daughter Lois and granddaughter Kami have returned from a two-week vacation in Clearwater, Fla. They saw Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Betz, Mr. and Mrs. Myrl Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Donahue and Mr. and Mrs. David Anderson and children.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Miller have come home from a ten-day vacation in East St. Louis where they visited her father, Joseph Konieczny and her brothers and sisters and their families.

While there they attended a Polish wedding and coming home they stopped at Riverside Hospital in Columbus to visit their neighbor, Bill Chaffin who had been transferred there from Berger several days earlier.

A 'coffee klatch' at the home of Mrs. Russell Hutchinson Thursday morning, was in honor of the birthday of Mrs. Ed Stoneburner. A Valentine motif was used in decorations, favors and decoration of the birthday cake. Guests were neighbors Mrs. Dwight Famulener, Mrs. Mary Miller, Mrs. John Davis, Mrs. Mike Search and daughter, Mrs. Eugene Norris and daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Timothy Search were given a bridal shower at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Search Jr., Saturday night. The hostesses were his sisters, Mrs.

Meany Gloomy About Economy

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — AFL-CIO President George Meany says a 10 per cent unemployment rate by midsummer is inevitable, regardless of what action Congress and the administration take in the coming months.

"No matter what they do, they will not turn it around," said Meany, who added that his forecast is an optimistic one.

He told a news conference Monday as the AFL-CIO Executive Council opened a week-long meeting that the jobless rate might go even higher, but he declined to provide an estimate.

Meany said he is not a prognosticator like President Ford's economic adviser, Alan Greenspan, and other advisers of the Ford and Nixon administrations who "were always seeing the light at the end of the tunnel in the third quarter."

Despite several upward revisions in its unemployment forecast, the Ford Administration has maintained the recession will bottom out in mid-summer and the economy will begin picking up during the second half of the year.

Unemployment hit a post-World War II peak of 8.2 per cent in January as 7.5 million Americans were without jobs.

A year ago, Meany predicted the unemployment rate would hit 6.5 per cent by the end of 1974. It rose to 7.2 per cent.

"We are getting to the point now where unemployment is feeding on unemployment ... this vicious cycle that we had back in the days of the Great Depression," he said.

He said that workers are beginning to exhaust their jobless benefits, and when that happens, "the whole economy is going to suffer" because the jobless will no longer be consumers.

Patricia Hoyt, Mrs. Janet Reichelderfer, Mrs. Judy Lewis and Mrs. Becky MacDonald. Valentine decorations were used throughout the house and the gift table was set in an arched doorway between two rooms and red and white ribbons were fastened at the top of the arch and attached to the table.

Guests were Mrs. Julia Evans, Mrs. Homer Graves, Mrs. Rita Lowry, Mrs. Masuko Pence, Miss Virginia Tatman, Mrs. Lillian Speakman, Mrs. Charles Forsythe, Regina Forsythe. In addition to those present, gifts were received from several unable to be present.

He said Congress, if it is going to enact an effective tax cut, "may have to go to $30 billion to really give an incentive that will turn the economy around."

A $30 billion program would be about $10 billion more than the tax package approved by the House Ways and Means Committee and nearly three times more than originally proposed by the President.

Along with a big tax cut and more jobs, measures are needed to revive the housing industry, including a return to 6 per cent mortgage interest rates, he said. He also said a moratorium may be needed on home mortgage foreclosures, such as occurred during the depression years.

Water Cash Outlined

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Voter approval of Gov. James A. Rhodes' $2.5 billion bond issue on Ohio's June 3 ballot would mean $35 million for solid waste disposal and safe water in municipalities, Ohio Environmental Protection Director Ned Williams noted today.

He told a news conference that $25 million would be used for 15 per cent matching grants—with local communities paying 85 per cent—in the construction of solid waste facilities. The maximum a community could receive would be $2 million, and the total funds generated for solid waste facilities would be $167 million.

The $10 million earmarked by the bond issue, for drinking water would be distributed on a 90-10 basis with the community paying the larger share, and the maximum grant would be $500,000. Total construction under that program would be $100 million, the director said.

Williams' news conference came a day after Natural Resources Director Robert Teater met with newsmen to outline what approval of the bond issue meant in terms of new state park facilities and other improvements.

Rhodes' proposal is among four by the governor that would require approval of the state's voters. They have yet to be acted upon by the legislature where three-fifths majorities of each house are required to place on the June 3 primary ballot.

HISTORY RELIVED IN TEXAS—Three antique British Tiger Moth planes fly in formation toward Dallas-Fort Worth airport in Texas. Flight marks plane type's 50th year. Pilots restored the planes.

Building Den Of Bottles Brings Problem With Wind

LAFAYETTE, La. (AP) — A few things to keep in mind when you build a den out of old wine and whisky bottles: red and blue ones are hard to come by; watch out for algae; and, finally, you'll likely be kept awake nights when the wind turns the walls into a giant jug band.

This is what Russell Dupuis, assistant professor of architecture at the University of Southwestern Louisiana, learned when he bottled in his patio.

Seven friends helped him collect the 3,500 assorted bottles for the addition to his self-built experimental house that sits on a wooded acre 15 miles from here.

He found a few red ones, now collectors' items and expensive, to highlight the standard green, amber and clear tones of liquor, wine and soft-drink bottles.

For a touch of blue, he went to the drugstore for four milk of magnesia containers.

Then to the hardware store to order 3,500 corks.

"I corked every one of them," the 43-year-old bachelor said. "Moisture would accumulate and algae would start growing in there, and the wind would be blowing in them at night."

The bottles lie horizontally in a bed of mortar. The wall is sturdy, but no match for a north wind, and two electric heaters are deployed in the 9-by-40-foot room.

In sunlight, the bottles gleam brilliantly. At night, artificial lighting from the outside gives the walls a stained-glass glow.

"It's very tranquil, very peaceful," says Dupuis. "After a hectic day at school, it's reposeful, sitting there enjoying the bottles."

MEETS THE PRESIDENT—President Gerald Ford shakes the hand of Leonard C. Ward of Houston, believed to be about 102-years-old. Ward is believed to be the oldest living Republican in Harris County, Tex. President Ford met Ward as he was going to a breakfast with media executives.

Doctor Working After Conviction

BOSTON (AP) — Dr. Kenneth C. Edelin, sentenced to one year's probation on a manslaughter conviction in the death of a fetus after a legal abortion, returns to work at Boston City Hospital today.

Suffolk Superior Court Judge James P. McGuire stayed execution of the sentence Tuesday pending the outcome of an appeal filed later in the day by the doctor's attorney, William P. Homans.

Edelin could have received a maximum 20-year sentence in the case.

The hospital immediately invited him to return to his job today as head of outpatient obstetrical and gynecological care, and Edelin accepted.

The executive committee of the hospital's medical and dental staff

Fort Wayne Fires Said Connected

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (AP) — Fire Chief Thomas A. Heckman says the four major fires near downtown Fort Wayne during the past two weeks may have been connected.

The early morning blaze that destroyed the Diehm Museum of History on Monday was termed by Heckman as "definitely the work of an arsonist."

The museum fire took place exactly two weeks after the 88-year-old Rosemarie Hotel and the Old Fort Drapery Shop were destroyed by fires linked to arsonists.

"While we have no definite proof the fires are being set by the same person, we do think it is strange all these buildings are located close to the downtown area," Heckman said.

The fourth fire also occurred exactly two weeks ago and destroyed the Third Presbyterian Church, located on the same street as the hotel and drapery shop.

Heckman said investigators have found traces of a combustible material in the ruins of all four buildings.

Toledo Refinery Strike Continues

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Three local issues are holding up settlement of a strike by 380 workers at the Standard Oil Co. of Ohio (Sohio) refinery here, union officials said.

The refinery workers, most of whom are members of Local 346, Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers Union, have voted to remain off the job until the company meets their demands on the three issues, a spokesman said.

The workers have been idle since Jan. 11, when their contract expired. Sohio has maintained production at the refinery using supervisory personnel, a company spokesman said.

Wright Blasts Energy Plan

NEW YORK (AP) — The Ford administration's energy program would erode the average family's purchasing power and overwhelm any benefit from a tax cut, the chairman of a House Democratic task force on energy said today.

Rep. James C. Wright Jr., D-Tex., in a speech prepared for the New York Society of Security Analysts, asserted that President Ford's $3-per-barrel tariff on imported oil would cost consumers $7.6 billion this year.

"If then we added some $30 billion in proposed new taxes on domestic production, we'd be touching off not only a ripple effect but a broad economic tremor which would send shock waves of higher costs into every home and business in the country," Wright said.

"The stimulative effects of the 10 per cent investment tax credit and the tax reduction for lower- and middle-income Americans which Congress is preparing to enact would be quickly overwhelmed by the depressive effects of much higher business costs and consumer prices," he said.

Wright said the Democrats' analysis is that the average family would get $125 in tax rebates but would be hit with a $740 increase in the annual cost of living from oil-related price hikes.

He said the Democrats oppose the oil import tariff because it guarantees higher prices but not lower consumption.

Import quotas would be preferable because oil-producing countries might then compete for the job of supplying the United States, he said.

Travel Pay Boost Eyed

WASHINGTON (AP) — A bill increasing travel expenses for senators and their staffs is being debated by the House amid a congressional lobbying effort for rejection of the measure.

Rep. Les Aspin, D-Wis., said the measure would allow senators and their aides to collect an additional $35 a day while traveling in their home states, even during campaigns.

He circulated letters to all House members urging defeat of the bill.

The main purpose of the bill is to increase daily travel allowances for all federal employees on official business from $25 to $35.

However, another provision would alter a single phrase in Senate rules, which now limit home-state travel reimbursements for senators to "actual transportation expenses."

With a change in the phrase to "travel expenses," senators and their assistants could be paid a $35 per diem allowance as well as their transportation costs.

Sommer Quits As Fraud Chief

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Joseph J. Sommer, director of the state's major hiring agency under former Gov. John J. Gilligan, has resigned as chief of the attorney general's consumer fraud division, it was learned today.

Sommer, Gilligan's director of administrative services, said the current controversy over hiring practices during the final days of the Democratic administration was not a factor in his decision to leave the $25,600-a-year post, which he assumed six weeks ago.

"I've been having, I suppose, an adjustment problem," he said.

"I was ready to get out before this ever broke out."

Sommer said he informed Atty. Gen. William J. Brown on Feb. 10 that he was leaving, effective Friday.

Net Farm Income Declines

WASHINGTON (AP) — Farmers' net incomes, which soared to a record of $32.2 billion in 1973, plunged nearly 16 per cent last year and are expected to drop at least another 12 per cent in 1975, according to the Agriculture Department.

Group Raps Abortion Decision

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
"The adversary system of the criminal courts is not the place to define abortion," say 225 members of the Association of Professors of Gynecology and Obstetrics.

The resolution expressing support for the Supreme Court's 1973 decision legalizing most abortions was approved at New Orleans on Monday, two days after the Boston manslaughter conviction of Dr. Kenneth C. Edelin in the death of a fetus during a legal abortion.

The resolution also says the criminal courts are not the place to "define viability, or to define the moral issues of abortion."

The resolution was authored by Dr. Kenneth J. Ryan, chief of staff of Boston Hospital for Women and chairman of the Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology at Harvard Medical School.

Edelin, an obstetrician at Boston City Hospital, was convicted Saturday in the death of a 20-to-2-week-old fetus he aborted in October 1973. The prosecution charged he held the fetus inside the mother's womb for three minutes to insure it would not live.

In St. Louis, Edelin's attorney, Frank Susman, said the alleged use of racial slurs by jurors will be part of the black doctor's appeal.

Susman said he had received reports that some jurors made derogatory race references during the six-week trial.

"Farm income prospects for 1975 have weakened and a sizeable downturn in net farm income in 1975 may be in prospect," the department's Outlook and Situation Board said Tuesday. "Prices for major crops have slumped in recent months and production expenses have continued their persistent rise."

After 1973's record farm income — nearly double that of 1972 — livestock prices toppled and harvests were shortened by bad weather. As a result net farm income in 1974 dropped to $27.2 billion but still was the second largest on record.

One official said farm income this year may drop to below $24 billion because farm commodity prices have declined more than experts previously expected.

The board's analysis was in a preliminary report on the demand and price situation for agriculture to be issued in full later this month. Although the report did not include dollar estimates of 1975 farm income, it did indicate farmers will have a less profitable year than USDA experts thought only three months ago.

"However, the level of 1975 crop production will be the primary determinant of the size of the drop in income for 1975," the report said.

At an economic outlook conference last December, department experts said 1975 farm income probably would range between $24 billion and $27 billion.

C. C. Kyle Randall, chairman of the board which issued Tuesday's report, said "we're more pessimistic now" and that farm commodity prices in 1975 appear weaker than they did in December.

Randall told a reporter that department economists did not project a possible range of 1975 farm income possibilities such as the $24 billion to $27 billion indicated in the December conference.

However, he said $24 billion now looks to be more than what farmers may net in 1975. Randall declined to speculate on how much below that level farm income might fall.

The report said the size of 1975 crops is the single most important factor affecting the farm economy and represents a "two-edged sword" for producers.

"If record crops are harvested, the question of how well the U.S. can meet the needs of domestic and foreign markets is academic, unless significant shortfalls occur in the rest of the world," the report said.

Civil Service Union Applauds Ruling

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Civil Service Employees Association says a common pleas court decision should assure that future promotions in classified state service will be based on competitive examinations.

"Over the years we have had thousands of complaints by our members about promotions being given on the basis of 'who do you know,' rather than on merit," said Karl E. Stewart, executive director of the union.

"This decision by Judge Fred J. Shoemaker should effectively end this

Marcum Bound To Grand Jury

Boyd Marcum, Route 1, Clarksburg, was bound to Common Pleas Court, Tuesday, by Municipal Court Judge Sterling Lamb.

Marcum was charged with the Dec. 18, 1974 forgery of a $20 check at Fenn's Foodtown Grocery in New Holland.

Bond was set at $1500.

practice and henceforth all promotions in the classified service will be based on ability."

Judge Shoemaker ruled in the case of a certified parole officer who sought a promotion with the Adult Parole Authority in Summit County in July, 1973 for an upgraded position.

The spot was filled by another officer without a competitive test.

Shoemaker said an examination should have been given and argued: "The very fact that an examination was held in December of 1973 makes it clear" that the test could have been given earlier in the year.

State law provides that promotions in the classified service should be based on merit "to be ascertained as far as practicable by promotional examinations," job performance and seniority.

"The statute requiring said promotions, if practical, is not such a discretionary act that the director has a right to circumvent the statute," the Franklin County Common Pleas Court judge said. He ordered the Department of Rehabilitation and Correction to administer the test to the officer in question, Robert Biddle.

Stewart hailed the court decision as a victory in a "37-year struggle to end the widespread practice in state service of promoting employees on the basis of friendship, political affiliation or brownie points."

Administrative Services Director Richard Krabach did not interpret the decision as having the sweeping implications seen by the union.

"It says in this particular case the director of the department didn't use the discretion available to him," Krabach said. "It doesn't mean you've got to give an examination in every case."

Krabach said state lawyers would study the ruling before a decision is made on an appeal.

A large high pressure system moving in from the west is expected to bring mostly sunny skies to Ohio for the remainder of the week. Temperatures should moderate, with high readings on Thursday in the upper 30s and 40s.

The tail end of a low pressure system which brought light rain and snow to much of the state Tuesday night was expected to clear by mid afternoon. Highs today from the mid 30s to the mid 40s were forecast, following morning readings in the 30s. Clear skies are forecast tonight, with lows in the 20s.

State In Appeal Of Abortion Order

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — The State of Ohio appealed an order to pay for voluntary abortions for welfare recipients in a hearing Tuesday before the 6th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals.

Attorneys who won a U.S. District Court decision in Columbus earlier said a change in the order providing Medicaid funds would be an "invidious discrimination against abortion."

Ohio Asst. Atty. Gen. Thomas Martin contended the state's decision against subsidizing abortions for nonmedical reasons for welfare recipients was proper because there was never any congressional intent to prohibit a subsidy.

The state appealed the order of U.S. District Judge Robert M. Duncan forcing the state to reimburse the women for the abortions.

"The decision of the district court that the state law is invalid is contrary to the principles established by the decisions of the Supreme Court in the areas of both pre-emption and federally assisted welfare programs," Martin said.

Linda Champlin, representing the welfare recipients, doctors, clinics and the National Organization of Women, said "A remand by this court could throw the situation back into a limbo where doctors will not know if they will be receiving payments and will not be doing abortions."

Martin emphasized that the state was not prohibiting abortions or even setting requirements which must be met in order to have an abortion. The statute authorizes abortions if they relate to physical or mental health of the pregnant woman, he said.

"The fact that a person has a constitutional right which is protected from infringement by the government does not mean that a person has the right to demand that the government appropriate funds to subsidize that right," Martin argued.

Martin said there is no specific congressional indication that abortion should be subsidized.

Ms. Champlin, who uses the title by preference, argued that the appellate court has the authority to rule on the constitutionality of the question, an area which the district court had avoided.

"We would prefer not to consider issues not considered by the district court," one appellate judge said.

Procrastinators Honor Fillmore

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Procrastinator's Club of America was angered by the early celebration of George Washington's birthday.

So the club picked Monday to celebrate the birthday of Millard Fillmore, the nation's 13th president, who was born Jan. 7, 1800.

"We wouldn't mind if Lincoln's Birthday were celebrated Feb. 17 (he was born on Feb. 12), but we resent the idea of celebrating Washington's birthday ahead of time," said chapter president Les Waas.

Campus Notes

Some 400 top-ranking seniors will be honored today at Ohio State University's annual President's Scholarship Recognition Dinner. One of the University's major academic events of the year, the dinner will start at 6 p.m. in the west ballroom of the Ohio Union, on the campus.

Outstanding students invited to the 18th annual event were chosen by the colleges and schools of the university.

Brenda P. Gibson, 351 Eva Drive, is among those seniors honored. She is majoring in pharmacy at OSU.

Pamela Dara Kempton, was among the 1,300 Madison College students who earned Dean's List honors for the first semester of the 1974-75 school year.

Miss Kempton is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald R. Kempton, P. O. Box 219, Laurelville.

To earn a place on the Dean's List, a student must achieve a grade point average of at least 3.25 on a 4.0 scale. The student must also have made this average on at least 14 semester hours of credit.

Vikings Play Tough For 2nd Metro Title

The Metro League basketball title is beginning to be a permanent fixture in the Teays Valley High School trophy case.

The Vikings of Coach Bob Hoover clinched the title outright a year ago and staged a furious rally the last part of this year for a repeat.

Coming off an excellent 16-2 season last year, the Vikes went 12-6 this campaign, but their 11-3 Metro mark was one game better than Franklin Heights and Hamilton Twp., who tied for the second slot.

The Vikings breezed past their first three opponents, two of them Metro foes, before being stopped by Circleville 57-42.

They rebounded for a league win against Grandview, but lost sole ownership of the league lead when they were outscored 84-78 by Franklin Heights in the Falcon gym Dec. 13. That knotted TV, Franklin Heights, Hamilton Twp. and Olentangy at the top of the pack.

Teays Valley stayed in first place another week, dropping Dublin 46-39 in the lowest scoring game of the year, before falling from the league lead in the first game of 1975 when they were pounded by Hamilton Twp. 74-41. It was not a good weekend for the Vikings, who lost the following night 86-64 to Circleville.

TV won two more league games, but almost fell completely out of contention when they lost a close 61-59 game to Olentangy. They fought back for a two-point win over Grandview before faltering to powerful Bexley 71-63 in a non-leaguer.

Then came the key to the season. Teays Valley overwhelmed Franklin Heights 76-63 to move towards the top, ripped Dublin 100-70, and stopped the Rangers of Hamilton Twp. 75-71 to tie for the lead once again.

And Feb. 14 they trimmed West Jefferson 71-67 while Franklin Heights bombed Hamilton for the league title.

Terry Collins, TV's smooth senior performer, paced the Viking offense and finished third in the Metro League individual scoring race with a 17.2 average. He netted 16.8 points a contest in the 18 TV games, falling out of double figures only once. His high performance was 27 points against West Jefferson.

Senior Kevin Pettibone, who missed one contest, placed eighth on the Metro individual scoring list with a 14.5 average. He hit for 14.1 points throughout the year.

The Vikings averaged 70.8 points a game on offense in the league, and allowed 63.8. The Metro average was 60.6 points.

In four non-leaguers TV averaged 59.2 points and allowed 66.7. They were 1-3 out of the league, losing twice to Circleville and once to Bexley.

Their 18-game offensive average is 68.2 points while they allowed 64.5 points.

Teays Valley will play Circleville Saturday at 11 a.m. at the Columbus Fairgrounds Coliseum in the first round of the Grove City Class AA sectional basketball tournament.

The winner will play the winner of the Logan Elm-Pickerington contest Feb. 28 in the upper bracket finals.

Here are the final, unofficial Metro League averages:

in club history.

"We met only three times and we were never far apart," said Bench after signing his 1975 contract with one of the strongest throwing arms in baseball.

No actual figure was revealed by either the player or team officials. But Bench called the contract "tremendous" and indicated that he had taken the lead over teammate Pete Rose as the most expensive player in Cincinnati history. Rose makes about $160,000 a season.

Bench, a two-time Most Valuable Player in the National League, topped the league in runs batted in last season with 129. He had 33 home runs and a .280 batting average.

Despite the size of the contract, Bench didn't get the fattest pitch Tuesday in a day of super signings. Ferguson Jenkins did.

Jenkins, the Texas Rangers' 25-game winner last year, agreed to a new contract worth nearly $200,000 for 1975.

The veteran pitcher was seeking an escalating contract worth $205,000 the first year, but settled for about $175,000 in cash, plus the use of a car and a rent-free house, said his lawyer, Larry Sazant.

Jenkins, who tied for the American League lead in victories last season, led in complete games with 29 and was tied for second in starts with 41 and in shutouts with six.

With those two powerhouse names making news, the National League's Most Valuable Player of 1974 had to take a back seat with his contract. Steve Garvey signed for "only" $90,000 with the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Garvey, the first baseman who led the Dodgers into last year's World Series against the Oakland A's, Garvey batted .312 in 1974, led the Dodgers in RBI with 111, hits with 200 and doubles with 32.

Bench, Jenkins and Garvey highlighted a busy day for baseball players — who either were signing or fighting for their contracts in arbitration.

Pitchers Mike Caldwell, Ron Bryant and Randy Moffitt signed with the San Francisco Giants while the Cleveland Indians signed pitcher Tom Hilgendorf for the 1975 season.

Meanwhile, arbitration contests took place in both San Francisco and Chicago without much apparent headway — but with plenty of hard feelings.

In San Francisco, Oakland third baseman Sal Bando sought a $25,000 raise over last year's $100,000 contract, which he won in arbitration.

Bando faced a formidable opponent in Oakland owner Charles O. Finley, who announced: "He didn't have as good a season as the year before ... he doesn't deserve a raise."

Earlier, Finley had called Bando "one of the worst-fielding third basemen in baseball."

Earl Anthony Takes Lead In Winnings

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Earl Anthony has taken over first place in the Professional Bowlers Association standings as tournament competition opens again today with the $60,000 Long Island Open at Garden City.

The Tacoma, Wash., bowler earned $3,000 for third place last week at the Fair Lanes Open at Springfield, Va., boosting his year's prize-money total to $19,850, the PBA said Tuesday.

Kenyon Tops Oberlin In OC Tilt

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Conference finished its regular college basketball schedule Tuesday night with Kenyon holding off a determined Oberlin team for a 73-66 victory.

In other games, Ashland downed Baldwin-Wallace and Defiance overran Ohio Northern.

At Gambier, Kenyon's Tem Appleton hit 28 points and pulled down 18 rebounds to lead the Lords to their victory.

Kenyon had led by as much as eight points in the early part of the game, but Oberlin closed to within one point at halftime and tied the score four times in the second period.

But with five minutes left, the Lords were able to break Oberlin's press and take the victory.

In Cleveland, junior forward Randy Emmons tossed in 23 points to pace Ashland to their 62-57 victory over Baldwin-Wallace. Ashland had held a 32-28 halftime advantage.

In Ada, forwards Bob Martin and Gregg Mugg combined for 34 points to lead Defiance to its 90-75 victory over Ohio Northern. It was the ninth Northern loss in a row to Defiance over the last five years.

In the Hoosier-Buckeye Conference, Anderson downed Wilmington 95-90 and in the Presidents' Conference, Hiram beat John Carroll 90-43.

Elsewhere, it was Ohio Wesleyan 76, Ohio Dominican 61, and Cedarville 66, Wilberforce 65.

Simpson Superstar Winner

ROTONDA, Fla. (AP) — O.J. Simpson's determination to avoid what he considered to be an embarrassing performance in the 1974 superstars has paid off with a $25,000 first-place check in the 1975 competition.

The running star of the National Football League's Buffalo Bills easily outdistanced previous champions Bob Seagren and Kyle Rote Jr. Tuesday by finishing the two-day event with 47½ points.

Pole vaulter Seagren, winner of the initial Superstars in 1973, had 40 and defending champion Rote was third with 31 points.

"Last year was a rude awakening for me," Simpson said of his failure to place among the 1974 leaders. "This year, I kept my weight down after the end of the football season."

Simpson earned an additional $14,250 on the basis of $300 for each point in the finals, giving him a total of $39,250. He earned $14,800 in winning his qualifying round last month.

Seagren earned $27,000, including $15,000 for second, and Rote made $19,300, including $10,000 for third.

Simpson won the 100-yard dash Tuesday with a time of 9.69 seconds with pole vaulter Steve Smith second at 9.71. He finished third in baseball hitting and the obstacle course.

On Monday Simpson had won bowling with a score of 185 and finished second in rowing, weight lifting and tennis.

Tin Fork Winner Of Latonia Feature

FLORENCE, Ky. (AP) — A late spurt carried Tin Fork out of fourth place at the top of the stretch and past the leaders for a length and a half victory in the $3,500 feature race at Latonia Tuesday night.

The winner completed the mile in 1:45 1-5, returning $14.80, $7.00 and $4.20. Star Pat paid $5.00 and $3.60 for second and Colonial Point was the show horse at $3.20.

Chapletta and Holloway's Mistake, 10-4, won the first two races to produce a $567 daily double.

A crowd of 4,438 wagered $482,589.

CHS Boosters Meet

The Circleville Athletic Booster Club will meet 8 p.m. Wednesday in the high school cafeteria. All Boosters are urged to attend.

CHS Varsity Girls Lose; Reserves Win 9th Game

The Circleville girl reserves continued their torrid nine game winning streak with a 26-2 pasting of Hillsboro, but the Tiger varsity went down to a 37-26 defeat.

Hillsboro, with good outside shooting, took an 8-6 lead after the first period of the varsity game, but scored 14 points in the second quarter while limiting the Tigers to two for a 22-8 lead.

The Tigers fought back to within nine in the final period, with Becky Moorehead leading a fast break attack that nearly cracked the Indians.

Miss Moorehead scored 10 points on the night, six in the final period. Sue Crist had eight for Circleville, and Anne Frericks and Darla Hughes had four each. Miss Frericks had 10 rebounds and Miss Hughes had nine.

Zimmerman was the game's leading scorer with 12 points. Burns, who ripped Circleville earlier in the year for 29 points, was held to just 10 by the Tigers.

The varsity cagers will host Westfall 5 p.m. Thursday in the Circleville gym.

A strong defense that registered 19 steals and held Hillsboro to just one basket paved the way in the reserve win.

The Tigers scored six points in the first period, eight in the second, four in the third, and eight in the final quarter. Karen Runyon was the lone Hillsboro scorer, hitting a basket in the third period.

Kelly Steele had six points, six rebounds, and four steals, Nancy Radcliff had six points and three steals, Cindy Dayhoff had four points, Sue Stevenson had two points, four rebounds, and three steals, Sue Radcliff had two points and five steals, Wanda Boyd had two points and four steals, Linda Holveck had two points, and Vicki Morrison had one.

McDowell Cagers Go For Mid-State

McDowell topped Pickerington 41-35 Tuesday in a semi-final Mid-State League Junior High tournament game at Bloom-Carroll.

The McDowell cagers will face Fairfield Union 10:30 a.m. Saturday at Carroll as they go for their second straight tourney title.

McDowell never trailed holding leads of 12-9 after the first period, 20-19 at the half, and 30-27 after three periods.

Dan Hill and Bruce Hannigan, a first-time starter, paced McDowell with 11 each. Brian Hannigan scored nine, Terry Wright canned six, and Tom Congrove hit for four.

Holtgreffe hit for 11 for Pickerington.

Tourney Tickets Sold At Schools

Tickets for the Grove City Class AA first-round sectional tournament game between Circleville and Teays Valley will be sold today and Thursday at both schools.

Circleville school officials said the tickets will be on sale until 9 a.m. Thursday.

The game will be played Saturday at 11 a.m. in the Columbus Fairgrounds Coliseum.

Logan Elm will play Pickerington Friday at 7 p.m. at Grove City in the other upper-bracket contest.

Winners of the two games will advance to the sectional upper bracket finals Friday, Feb. 28, at 8 p.m.

Mid State Coaches Pick All-Star Team

The Mid State Coaches picked the all-league basketball team Tuesday, naming four to the ten-man squad unanimously.

JEFF REICHELDERFER

Jeff Reichelderfer of Logan Elm was picked to the first team, missing unanimous selection by just one vote.

Westfall's Chris Riddle Named To All-SVC Squad

Chris Riddle, Westfall's fine 6-3 junior swingman, was the only Mustang to make the 12-member

CHRIS RIDDLE

Scioto Valley Conference All-Star team.

Jeff Black of Canal Winchester was named the player of the year and Dan Brisker, coach of the Indians, was named coach of the year. Black, along with his teammate Tom Duckworth, Clark Dupler of Berne Union and John Largent of Millersport, were the unanimous picks.

Rounding out the top ten were Rick Underwood of Liberty Union, Bob Henahen of Fisher Catholic, Don Bethel of Amanda Clearcreek, Phil Steube of Canal Winchester and White of Fairfield Union.

Bethel was a former member of the Logan Elm team. His family moved to the Amanda-Clearcreek district this year.

Canal Winchester, undefeated champion of the Mid State, placed three cagers on the coaches' dream team. No other team had more than one selection.

Making the honorable mention list from Logan Elm were seniors Scott Pontius and Matt Martin. Other honorable mention selections were Tom Moody, Berne Union; Charles Black and Jeff Arnett, Bloom Carroll, Carpenter, Fisher Catholic; Campbell and Sallee, both of Pickerington.

Canal was presented the trophy for the league championship. Logan Elm received the varsity runner-up trophy and the reserve championship trophy.

SVC coaches made their selections Tuesday night at Wardell's Party Home.

Southeastern, which won the league title with a 12-0 record, placed three men on the first team. They are Greg Pummill, Butch Bolte, and Rick Stevens.

Adena, Zane Trace, and Piketon had two players each on the all-star squad. They are Adena's Clark Gilmore and David Givens, Jeff Wright and Delbert Tatman of Zane Trace, and Bob Delay and Ron Salyers of Piketon.

Greg Daniels of Huntington was an all-league selection as was Mick Shoemaker of Paint Valley. Shoemaker, the league's leading scorer, was named the SVC Player of the Year.

Westfall's Brad Beatty and Kevin Reid, both juniors, lead the list of six honorable mention players. Both missed the first team by one vote.

Larry Jordan of Southeastern was the league's Coach of the Year.

Only three of the first-team league picks averaged in double figures against the Mustang defense. Wright averaged 27 points in two games against Westfall, Shoemaker hit for 26.5, and Gilmore scored 12.5.

Pan Am Rips Southern Mississippi

By KEN RAPPOPORT
AP Sports Writer

A little Lemon-aid has really pepped up the Pan American basketball team.

Coach Abe Lemons helped Oklahoma City University rise to national prominence and now he's doing the same thing for the school with the continental name in southern Texas.

The Broncos have galloped out of nowhere into the national rankings under the ebullient Lemons, currently claiming the No. 19 place among the country's best teams.

And they looked every bit that good while running over Southern Mississippi 97-78 Tuesday night.

"Pan American has a real good team," said Jeep Clark, the Southern Mississippi coach. "They've got good shooters and they're a lot quicker than I thought they were."

Lemons is never satisfied, even with a 19-point victory. Maybe that's why his team has a 21-2 record this year.

"We weren't sharp," he said. "We were outbounded in the first half."

Elsewhere in college basketball Tuesday night, Rhode Island upset Providence 79-69; Stetson overpowered Southern Illinois 70-65; Texas outscored Rice 68-62; Furman walloped The Citadel 94-69; Texas A&M turned back Baylor 62-55; Arkansas defeated Texas Christian 81-57; Army beat PittJohnstown 84-62; Utah State stopped Oral Roberts 91-83; Colorado State nipped Air Force 72-71;

George Washington trimmed Temple 83-70 and Texas Tech defeated SMU 60-57.

Marshall Rogers scored 30 points, leading Pan American's victory over Southern Mississippi before a sellout crowd of 5,200, the fifth straight standing-room-only crowd for the Broncos.

Pan American held a 42-35 halftime lead in the rough game in which a total of 37 fouls were called. In addition to Rogers, the Broncos were paced by Julius Howard with 18 points and Gilbert King with 19.

Earl Lewis had 24 points for Southern Mississippi, and Greg Prater had 16.

Freshman center Randy Wilds scored 23 points to pace Rhode Island's upset of Providence; Stetson stunned Southern Illinois behind a 33-point performance by Otis Johnson; Dan Kreuger scored 25 points to lead Texas past Rice; Furman ran its Southern Conference unbeaten record to 22 straight games behind Clyde Mayes' 27 points and 18 rebounds and Sonny Parker and Barry Davis combined for 35 points to shoot Texas A&M past Baylor.

Rick Medlock had 20 points as Arkansas, shooting almost 62 per cent from the field, beat Texas Christian; Bobby Jones scored a season-high 25 points and Gary Winton added 21 points and 10 rebounds in Army's victory; Jimmy Moore and Rich Haws scored 52 points between them, leading Utah State over Oral Roberts; Barry Sabas hit a 24-foot jump shot at the buzzer for Colorado State's victory; George Washington beat Temple as Clyde Burwell scored 23 points and picked off 15 rebounds and Texas Tech's Rick Bullock hit both ends of a one-and-one foul shot situation to clinch a Southwest Conference victory over SMU.

Wildlife Agency To Change

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Resource management under the Rhodes administration apparently will make an abrupt departure from directions chartered during the Gilligan years.

"This will be a different administration than that of the past four years," said Robert Teater, new resources director under Gov. James A. Rhodes.

Fishing opportunities will be doubled in the next five years and hunting prospects will be expanded, Teater said.

"With innovative and imaginative thinking we can come up with a positive approach to increasing hunting opportunities that I think will pay off," he said in an address before the annual convention of Outdoor Writers of Ohio.

Teater advanced no specifics. He said plans still are taking shape in his fledgling administration.

"There are ways of improving water quality, creating new water and increasing access to water," doubling the amount of fishable waters, he said.

Teater acknowledged that his department may have to dodge ambushes of conservationists to achieve some of its goals.

His pledge to create new water, for example, means building dams that have been vigorously opposed by conservationists who fear that several unique and picturesque streams in Southeast Ohio will be destroyed.

Repudiating the preservationist policies of William B. Nye, his predecessor, Teater endorsed the channelization of rivers and streams under certain conditions.

Channelization, long opposed by conservationists, is the practice of dredging a natural watercourse to improve drainage, usually for agricultural purposes.

Research has shown that channelization destroys aquatic environment.

"Whatever you call it—channelization or stream alteration—we will do some of it," said Teater.

Land and water resources must be used for greatest benefit to all, he said.

"I don't think we can adopt a policy of no-channelization and still be objective about resource management," Teater said.

A new approach to enforcing Ohio's strip mine laws also is in the offing.

Teater said his department "will not relax enforcement of any Ohio law," although he intends to allow a greater degree of self-policing by the coal industry than the Gilligan administration permitted.

"I have a deep conviction that industry wants to do the right thing and that industry is willing to work within itself to prevent abuses," Teater said.

Teater accused the administration of former Gov. John J. Gilligan of using what he called Gestapo tactics against strip miners. Included, he said, was harassment such as chasing suspected violators down at night.

Teater said a newly established Division of Natural Areas and Preserves would implement an aggressive program of seeking out and acquiring natural areas for preservation.

Teater resigned as chairman of Ohio State University's School of Natural Resources to become Rhodes' resources director. He was deputy resources director under Fred Morr in the first Rhodes administration.

Morr came under heavy fire for allegedly playing politics in administering the department. Teater went out of his way to say that practice would not be repeated.

"This department will honor and respect and employ on a professional basis, not on the basis of any political party," he said.

Tigers Are Terrors Of SCOL

When John Lawhorn took over as head basketball coach at Circleville High School in 1969 as the Tiger's seventh head cage coach during the 1960s, he outlined a program based on the Four Rs — Regroup, Rebuild, Regain, and Respect.

His current group of cagers seem to epitomize that philosophy.

Circleville was voted the best Class AA team in Ohio by the Associated Press, they won the South Central Ohio League basketball title in a record number of games and became only the fourth team in the 55-year-history of the league to do it with an undefeated season, and the Tigers, for the first time in school history, compiled a perfect, unbeaten season.

Circleville won only one league title and had only one season with a winning record in the 1960s. Lawhorn's first team was not a winner, going 5-14 and finishing in fifth place in the SCOL.

But since then, the Tigers have a 74-22 overall record and three league championships.

Lawhorn graduated from Sinking Springs High School in 1957, where he was a four-year varsity basketball starter, captain his senior year, three-time all-league pick, and an all-state performer his junior and senior years.

He continued his career at Rio Grande College and started on the 1960-61 team that led the nation in offense.

His first coaching job was at Belfast High School, a small Class A school in Highland County. After two years and a 31-9 record, he moved to East Clinton in Clinton County.

During his five-year coaching tenure there, the Astros won four league championships, two sectional titles, and compiled a five-year record of 69 wins and 32 losses.

When Circleville takes to the floor Saturday at 11 a.m. in the Columbus Fairgrounds Coliseum in first-round sectional play, Lawhorn will be going for his 180th career coaching victory and 80th at Circleville.

The Circleville players also have a record going for them.

The current Junior players at Circleville, Jeff Williams, Warren Yamarick, Brent Mancini, Mike McCoy, Biff Bumgarner, Dan Marshall, and George Moore, will be shooting for their 40th straight win without a loss.

They were members of the Circleville Freshman basketball team in the 1972-73 season that went 10-3 on the year and won the South Central Ohio League freshman tournament. Their last loss that year was a 52-45 decision to Washington C. H. Feb. 8, 1973.

They played on the Circleville reserve team that went 18-0 last year and were instrumental members of the Tiger varsity squad that went 18-0 this season.

The Tigers varsity, by the way, counting a six game winning streak to close out last year's season, have not been beaten in 24 regular season games.

Reason for the success has been the defense, and the unselfish play of the Tigers on offense.

Coach Lawhorn, at the start of the campaign, said this year's team would have more quickness than past Tiger squads and "could be the best of the defensive teams." How right he was.

The Tigers allowed a skimpy 52.4 points in the South Central Ohio League with the man-to-man and had an 18-game average of 53.8.

Lawhorn's 1970-71 championship team had a defensive average of 57.6 and the championship squad of 1972-73 allowed 56.2 points a game.

Offensively, the Tigers struck for 70.5 points a game in the SCOL and 71.4 in all games. Circleville did it while shooting 52 per cent from the floor in all games on 485 baskets in 931 attempts on the year.

Four players, George Moore, Harold "Willis" Reed, Perry Hoskins, and Biff Bumgarner, shot over 50 per cent from the floor in the 18 games, and Mike McCoy, Brad Spangler, and Brent Mancini cracked the 45 per cent mark.

Reed was the leading scorer on the team and leading point-maker in the county, averaging 19.4 points in the SCOL and 17.7 in all games. He netted 302 points in 17 games.

Moore, often smaller than the opposing centers, hit 58 per cent of his shots this year, scoring 14.9 points in all games, and 13.8 in the league. He averaged nearly 11 rebounds a game.

Hoskins scored an average 12 points in the league and 12.4 in all games and Bumgarner contributed 10.5 points in the league and 11.3 in all games along with seven rebounds.

The most points allowed by the Tigers this year was in the first game of the season when Circleville beat powerful Bexley 82-67.

The closest, and perhaps most impressive win, came Feb. 1 when the Tigers topped London 64-60 in the London gym.

Circleville clinched the South Central Ohio League title Jan. 24 with a 64-46 trouncing of Greenfield.

Braves Are MSL Runnerups

The Logan Elm Braves of Coach Asa Bradbury, facing the excitement of tournament competition, have concluded a fine season in the Mid-State League with a second place finish.

Canal Winchester, with a 17-1 regular game mark and 14-0 Mid-State record, won the league in a runaway. The Indians are the second-ranked Class A team in the state according to the Associated Press poll.

Logan Elm, 11-7 on the year, finished league play with a 10-4 record.

Two of their non-league losses were to Circleville, the top-rated Class AA team in the state, and two league defeats were suffered at the hands of Canal.

In league play, the Braves lost to Fairfield Union, Pickerington, and twice to the Indians.

Fairfield Union finished third in the loop with a 9-5 record, Fisher Catholic was fourth at 8-6, and Bloom-Carroll was fifth with a 7-7 record.

Fairfield Union, Logan Elm, and Bloom-Carroll were the only teams in the top five to play C-W twice in the league season.

But it's been a good season for the Braves under their first-year coach, almost a complete turn-around. Last year Logan Elm finished the regular season with an 8-11 record. They were fifth in the Mid-State.

Junior forward Jeff Reichelderfer led the Braves in overall and league scoring. He averaged 16.2 in the 18 games and placed fifth in the Mid-State scoring race with a 17.4 average.

Scott Pontius, a senior, averaged 14.3 points during the season and 13.7 in the league.

As a team, Logan Elm averaged 74 points a game in its 14 Mid-State contests and allowed 64.6 a game. They were second in offense and third in defense in the league.

However, in the four non-leaguers, they averaged only 59.5 points while allowing 72.7. Their overall scoring average is 70.8 points a game, and they allowed 66.4.

After dropping the first two games of the year, both to non-league opponents, the Braves raced to three Mid-State wins before Canal Winchester set them back 64-60. They also lost league tilts to Fairfield Union and Pickerington.

Their best scoring effort came Jan. 31 when they downed Millersport 87-49. Circleville held them to the fewest number of points in an 83-52 blitz Saturday.

The average Mid-State score was 70.7 points.

The Braves will be in action Friday in the first round of the Central District Class AA sectional tournament at Grove City.

Logan Elm will play Pickerington in a 7 p.m. game to see which team will advance to the upper bracket finals Feb. 28 against the winner of the Circleville-Teays Valley contest.

Here are the final, unofficial Mid-State League averages:

Your Horoscope

By FRANCIS DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

FOR THURSDAY

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20): A day in which to curb your innate aggressiveness with intelligent self-discipline and stress moderation. Extremism of any kind could alienate others.

TAURUS (April 21 to May 21): Some tricky situations to handle: Don't leave anything to chance. Keep a weather eye open all day and don't let down your guard.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21): You, too, may run into some complex situations. Aim to solve with a little red tape and fuss as possible — not too difficult for the ingenious Gemini.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23): You may find it desirable to alter your program, but be sure the changes you make are for the better — not based on mere whim.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23): Check and re-check before assuming something will be a good risk. In purchases, sound for hidden values — or lack of them.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23): Some ups and downs in financial matters. However, a stroke of luck in the late afternoon will more than compensate for any morning loss.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23): Some unusual situations indicated. In all dealings, be direct. Avoid devious tactics or approach, and give others the benefit of the doubt.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 22): Do others seem needlessly opposed to your ideas? Review your plans again. A few changes might bring them around to your point of view.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21): Fine Jupiter influences encourage your particular know-how, sensitivity to delicate situations and reasoning powers. These are winners always — but especially now.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): Caution and conservatism should be stressed. Above all, avoid persons who are impulsively taking risks.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Keep emotions under stern control. Any tendency to "fly off the handle" could result in serious misunderstandings.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): An excellent day for both business and personal interests. Even if you have to make some compromises, it will be profitable in the long run.

YOU BORN TODAY, in the first decan of Pisces, are a most interesting individual. Your intuition is outstanding, your memory remarkable. You are talented and ambitious, but sometimes lose confidence in yourself and your goals. Try to acquire more faith in the things which you inherently believe for, at his best, the Piscean can overcome all obstacles and achieve almost anything he desires. You are extremely versatile and there are many fields in which you can carve an enviable career, but the best outlets for your talents are music, writing, the stage, science, invention and statesmanship. On the personal side, you are always helpful, companionable, one of the world's true humanitarians. But you CAN be misled through your emotions and sympathies, if you don't use your head. Martin Is A Bouncer

STAMFORD, Conn. (AP) — Rick Martin, a 24-year-old Riverside, Calif., technician, bounces electronic facsimile messages off the moon for fun and off a National Aeronautics and Space Administration satellite for work.

Martin is a volunteer crewman aboard Jacques Cousteau's converted minesweeper, the Calypso. The ship, in a research project with NASA and Texas A and M University, cruises the Caribbean measuring marine productivity and pollution in the sea.

Aboard the Calypso is Martin's bouncer, a Xerox Corp. telecopier unit. As the NASA satellite makes a daily pass over Calypso's position, sketches, graphs and other data from the Cousteau team's research are placed in the facsimile device and bounced off the satellite to receive units at Texas A and M.

The faithful reproduction permits precise analysis and compilation that would be impossible if the data were sent by voice.

Fur trappers played an important role in U.S. exploration. Pushing constantly into more remote areas, they mapped rivers and mountain passes, paving the way for later settlers.

NEW YORK (AP) — "Never Can Say Goodbye" is a hit song played so often I've grown to hate it. I've even seriously considered tracking down the composer and throttling him.

It now seems I can't commit mayhem. ABC would beef, as the villain is Clifton Davis, the girl-chasing barber on "That's My Mama." Besides, he's a big fan of the late Nat King Cole, so he can't be all bad.

Davis, 29, may be a veteran of both the New York stage and Hollywood TV, but he's a rookie songwriter. He's only been a published tunesmith since 1969 and says he's written just 15 songs so far.

But the fast-talking, always-smuggling native of Chicago says 1975 is going to be the year he makes his big push into music, both as a songwriter and as a pop singer in search of a hit record.

Davis, who never studied music and says he can't even read it, has sung in Broadway and off-Broadway musicals, but got in the songwriting dodge by accident.

He said he was in the chorus of "Hello, Dolly," when Judd Wolden, then writing music for a new show called "Raisin," asked him to sing some of the tunes for prospective backers of that musical.

One song was a gospel number. But Davis, a minister's son, thought Wolden played it as a jazz number. So the actor sat down at the piano and played the gospel according to Davis.

"He liked the way I put chords together," Davis recalled, "and when he heard me noodling around a little bit later on the piano, he said, 'Hey, what's the name of that song?'"

But Davis said he didn't get serious about tunesmithing until 1969, when he tried and succeeded in getting his first song, "Patience Is Rewarded," published.

His second published song, written in 1970, was "Never Can Say Goodbye." It was a 1971 hit for the Jackson Five and again a hit this year for singer Gloria Gaynor.

Davis, who says he's in the last year of a five-year contract with Jobete Music, the publishing arm of Motown, scoffs at the widely held notion that one hit makes a composer a millionaire.

Big Bear Vice President Retires After 41 Years

Lawrence E. Mack, senior vice president, secretary, and a director of Big Bear Stores Co., will retire Feb. 28, Wayne E. Brown, president of Big Bear said today. Mack was also a member of the Company's management committee.

Mack has been employed at Big Bear for 41 years. He was one of the first six employees hired at the Company when the first Big Bear Supermarket opened in 1934 at 386 W. Lane Ave., near the Ohio State University campus.

In 1935, he was named assistant manager of the second Big Bear store. Except for 21 months of military service during World War II, Mack has spent his entire working career at Big Bear. He has held the positions of assistant store manager, store manager, and supervisor with the Company.

In 1952, he was named superintendent of all 18 Big Bear Supermarkets. He was appointed vice president of store operations in 1957.

Mack has served on the Company's management committee since 1957, when the committee was formed as the executive committee. In 1963, the committee was renamed the management committee and Mack has continued to serve as a committee member.

In 1972, he was elected to the board of directors by the Company's stockholders. He was also named senior vice president and elected secretary of the Company by the board of directors in 1972.

Mack and his wife, Mary Jane, reside at 3811 Surrey Hill Place, Upper Arlington. They are the parents of a son, David Mack, of Dallas, Texas. They also have two grandsons.

Richard Vogel, director of store operations, has been named to the Company's management committee. Vogel will assume many of Mack's responsibilities.

R. D. Wickerham, assistant secretary, Company controller and a member of the management committee, has been named corporate secretary.

S. J. Saporito, merchandise manager, has also been named to the management committee.

The company has not named a new senior vice president, Brown said.

Washington Fifth Graders Study Life Of Pioneers

Mrs. Winona Ramsey's fifth grade class at Washington Twp. School held Pioneer Day to climax a study of America's early pioneers.

Coon-skin caps, shawls, bonnets, hats, and long dresses were worn for the day-long activity, an imaginary trip West.

Many class activities were devoted to preparation of Pioneer Day.

The girls held a quilting bee and made a quilt. As they sewed, their conversation centered around the happenings of the pioneer day.

Each girl chose her favorite material to make bonnets and aprons to wear on their imaginary trip West on Pioneer Day.

The girls also made corn-husk dolls and dresses for them. They were the only dolls pioneer children had. They also had a child's toy iron pot and a kettle.

The boys in the class made fiddles, banjos, guitars, and harmonicas from wood, papier mache, and cardboard. Various items were used for the strings.

They also made a Conestoga Wagon which was eight feet long and six feet tall. It was constructed of cardboard, wire, sheeting, rope, and wood. Being patriotic like the pioneers, they made the top of the wagon white, the bed blue, and the wheels red.

On the way West, the class stopped for the night and made a tripod from tree limbs. They chopped wood to build a fire and placed rocks around it to keep it from spreading.

The prepared and ate a meal of beans, milk, bread, and butter. Most of the students had never eaten homemade butter, which the class churned in jars, and Mrs. Ramsey noted that there was quite a reaction from her students, although most of them liked it.

As they sat around the campsite, they sang Pioneer songs.

Several antiques of that era were used on the trip such as crocks, a flat iron, iron kettles, iron skillet, barrels, Dutch oven, mugs, and shoe mold. They were brought in by different people.

The class also made a mural, "Moving Westward."

Each student wrote a playlet and several were presented to the other Washington students in their room. The entire room was used for the casts.

After the playlets, the students explained the various parts to the guests, and answered questions about the past era.

Many phases of pioneer life were studied by the students including crafts, transportation, food, clothing, social life, music, and home life.

Students participating were Stephanie Bobo, Stacey Carter, Robin Diltz, Leah Endicott, Penny Frazier, Kimberly Gerhardt, Paul Good, Caroline Grooms, David Hix, David Hoffman, Steve Kingery, Scott Kneecce, Martha McKay, William Reid, Sherri Seimer, Annette Shepherd, Sherri Stonerock, Rhonda Van Buskirk, Matthew Waidelich, Julie White, Richard Wilkinson, Lori Williams, Constance Yapple, and Alan Young.

PIONEER CAMPSITE—These fifth graders and their teacher, Mrs. Winona Ramsey, enjoy a campsite on their imaginary trip west in a study of Pioneer life.

PIONEER MUSICIANS—The boys in Mrs. Ramsey's fifth grade class made instruments in their study of Pioneer life. They entertained the ladies at night around the campsite.

25 YEARS—Marlene Thompson joined the ranks of the Circleville GE Lamp Plant's Quarter Century Club in February, when she was presented her service award by Ed Grigg, plant manager. Marlene holds the position of head payroll clerk.

Not too bright

Not too shiny either. Just right for beautifully painted walls and woodwork. This is why you'll want to use Dean & Barry Dulglos... the durable alkyd semi-gloss finish. Odorless. Wonderfully washable.
